DeWine warns of scams targeting senior citizens

Ohio Governor Mike DeWine and Ohio Department of Insurance Director Jillian Froment issued a consumer alert to warn older Ohioans of two telephone scams targeting them in an attempt to steal their personal information.

“Unfortunately, older adults are one of the most targeted groups for scammers,” Governor DeWine said. “We want to make sure older Ohioans are armed with the information they need to protect themselves in case they receive a suspicious call.”

“We have been informed by several of our stakeholder partners of scams seeking to take advantage of our older Ohioan population,” Froment said. “I urge people to be extremely cautious when deciding to share their personal information and to consider contacting organizations directly to initiate conversation and information sharing.”

Medicare beneficiaries are receiving recorded phone calls that appear on caller ID as if they are from the Social Security Administration (SSA). The message states that the person’s SSA account has been suspended and to press 1 for more information. Pressing 1 does connect the person with the SSA but a scammer is on the line ready to steal personal information the person may share with the SSA.

The SSA will not call a beneficiary unless the person requested a call from the SSA. A beneficiary can always call the SSA at 1-800-269-0271 to verify the legitimacy of a situation they encounter. Additional information is available at <https://faq.ssa.gov/en-us/Topic/article/KA-10018>.

The second scam is aimed at members of the Ohio Public Employee Retirement System (OPERS). Members are receiving phone calls from a scammer saying they are with VIA Benefits and are in need of personal information to establish the member’s prepaid funeral account. VIA Benefits, which does provide certain insurance services, is not making such calls. Members who receive these calls can call VIA Benefits at 1-844-287-9945 or OPERS at 1-800-222-7377.

The Ohio Department of Insurance provides educational information for Medicare beneficiaries through its Ohio Senior Health Insurance Information Program, regulates insurance products, and monitors the marketplace for insurance fraud and professional misconduct, among many other duties.

Ohioans can call the department’s fraud and enforcement hotline at 1-800-686-1527 or contact non-profit Pro Seniors and its fraud-fighting Ohio Senior Medicare Patrol at 1-800-488-6070 if they suspect wrongdoing or have been victimized.

Maple Syrup Festival returns to Malabar

The same trees that welcome visitors with a stunning show each fall are behind a day packed with free events and experiences at the annual Malabar Farm Maple Syrup Festival, held from noon to 4 pm March 7-8 and 14-15.

Visitors will see firsthand how sap is collected from Ohio maple trees and transformed into maple syrup. Live historical and fiber art demonstrations offer opportunities for travelers to immerse themselves in age-old traditions that date back to the earliest Native Americans.

Historical reenactors will demonstrate early sugaring techniques, through present-day maple production. A self-guided tour of the sugar camp and sugarhouse will reveal the evolution of sugaring equipment and how it’s used to create syrup, highlighted by samples of just-made real maple syrup. Walk-thru tours of the Big House introduce visitors to the history of Malabar Farm, while food and maple products are offered to taste, and to purchase to take home. Activities will take place throughout Malabar Farm State Park, including horse-drawn wagon rides.

While the entire Maple Syrup Festival is free, bringing cash is recommended, as donations to the draft horse team of volunteers from the Central Ohio Draft Horse Association are appreciated.

THE ENTERTAINMENT EXAMINER

By Ian Stumbo

When I was growing up you either played Nintendo or Sega. It didn't seem like there was a great deal of crossover but there were friends and classmates I would always watch play the Sega Genesis system (I was a Nintendo kid) and definitely the star of those games was Sonic the Hedgehog.

Well, Sonic the Hedgehog is now a movie and a pretty good one at that. Sonic is living on Earth and living in a small town in Montana. A police officer there named Tom (James Marsden) discovers Sonic one night. Upon losing his rings that transport him to literally anywhere, Sonic must enlist Tom's help to track them down on top of a building in San Francisco.

Throughout the movie, Sonic is chased by the evil Dr. Robotnik. Jim Carrey is perfect in this role and it's fun to see Carrey being silly and manic like he was early in his career. Carrey seems to be having a blast playing this role, gets some fun dialogue and really makes the movie.

Sonic the Hedgehog is not without its silly and at times pretty absurd moments but it delivers as a fun family film. Ben Schwartz is great as the voice of Sonic and there is genuinely good interplay between Sonic and Marsden.

This movie really could have gone sideways especially after the first trailer was released leading to a redesign of Sonic after the first design looked... well... scary.

Sonic the Hedgehog is a fun family film that delivers for young people and even adults who grew up with the video games will find something to like. This movie delivered but never exceeded my expectations and that's probably fine for what it is. 2.5 stars/4 stars.

THE OLD ENGLEHART BUILDING (1974) — The big old 1843 red brick building east of the Lexington town square has quite a history. It was built by Peter Englehart as a combination home and business for the family. The Englehart General Store was on the east side and he rented overnight bedrooms on the second floor. His store sold nearly everything the customers might need, from dry goods to produce and even rented horses and wagons. He also sold vast amounts of whiskey and beer over the counter but did not run a saloon. In 1855, he purchased for resale nearly 5,000 gallons of whiskey and beer. A 40 gallon barrel of whiskey cost $12 and a barrel of beer was $5-$8. If present proprietors Nickel and Bean Coffee Shop could still buy at those prices, business would surely boom.

Coalition will host educational program about dementia

The Richland County Dementia Capable Coalition, under the leadership of the Alzheimer's Association Northwest Ohio Chapter, will hold an educational program on the topic of effective communication strategies for families, friends and anyone impacted by the disease.

The hour-long event will be Monday, March 30, 2:30 pm at Primrose Retirement Community, 1301 Millsboro Rd. It is free and open to the public.

Individuals living with dementia often experience changes in behavior that can be confusing to friends and family.

For caregivers, learning to decode messages through attitude, tone of voice, facial expressions and body language can help both parties to connect and communicate in meaningful ways.

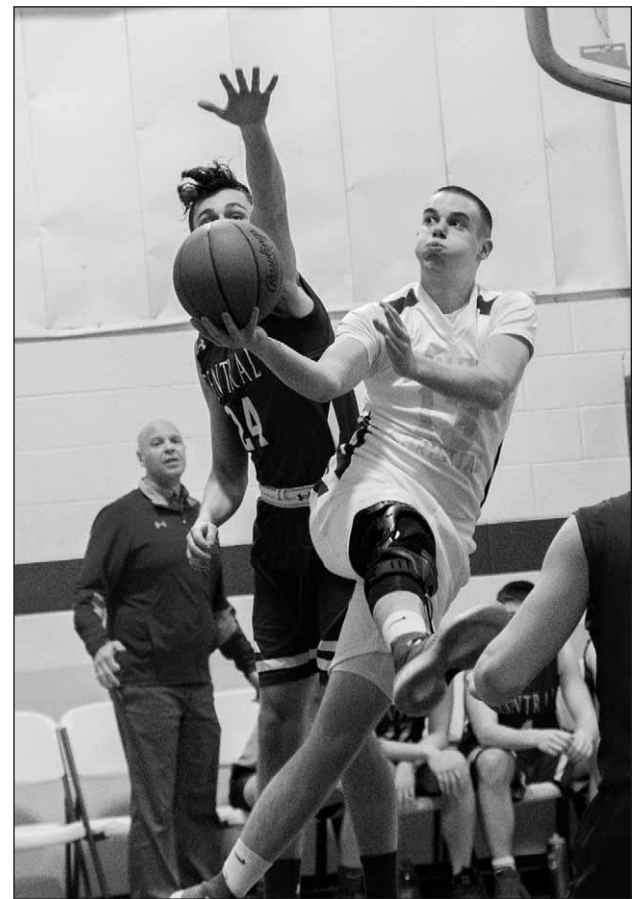

Effective Communication Strategies is a program provided by the Alzheimer's Association® that explores how communication takes place when someone has Alzheimer's disease. By the end of the program, attendees will be able to:

- Explain the communication changes that take place throughout the course of the disease.
- Decode the verbal and behavioral messages delivered by someone with dementia and respond in ways that are helpful to the person.
- Identify strategies to connect and communicate at each stage of the disease.

Effective Communication Strategies includes video interviews with professionals who explain critical aspects of communication throughout the Alzheimer's journey, and caregivers who share tips that have worked for their families.

"Holding a conversation with our loved ones with Alzheimer's disease can be a challenge" says Pam Myers, Program Director of the Chapter. "This program provides many suggestions and tips on how to enjoy your time with them versus being angry and frustrated".

Richland County Foundation awards grants totaling $2,315,102

The Richland County Foundation Board of Trustees approved grants totaling $2,315,102 during its February meeting.

The foundation will celebrate its 75th Anniversary this year with free community events throughout Richland County. Grants were awarded to various nonprofit organizations to host the free events. Details on how to attend the free events will be released in April.

The Board approved a five-year, $1.5M investment plan for Mansfield Rising projects. This year money has been allocated to improve facades on existing businesses, increase the number of public restrooms, public art and free public Wi-Fi. The foundation is seeking partners to help fund and work on Mansfield Rising projects. To review the plan, go to richlandcountyfoundation.org and click the Community Impact tab.

Four career technical education scholarships were approved for students to earn certifications and credentials at technical institutions. The Scholarship Committee implemented a rolling deadline for CTE scholarships to meet various enrollment deadlines. In aligning with Ohio's Attainment Goal, the Foundation wants to help fill the gap between job openings and certified employees as well as lead the way to support workforce development through CTE scholarships. The deadline for college scholarship applications is April 1.

Three competitive grants were awarded to Flying Horse Farms for Summer Camp for children with serious illnesses; Raemelton Equestrian Center for equine-based therapy scholarships; and Women's Fund for an endowment campaign.

The Board of Trustees approved grants from donor-advised funds which allows individuals and families the opportunity to make grant suggestions to favorite charities. Donor-Advised Funds are a flexible and convenient alternative to a private foundation. It is also a way to keep charitable contributions anonymous, at the preference of the donor.

NECIC brings Open Table Recruitment to Richland County

North End Community Improvement Collaborative, Inc. (NECIC) announced a new initiative in partnership with Richland County Children's Services. The Open Table will support youth aging out of foster care by building a network of ongoing support and mentorship around the needs of each participant.

This initiative was brought to NECIC by community organizer Kay Smith in June 2019. Following her passing, community organizer, Nyasha Oden continues her work to help our community's youth with Open Tables.

"Sometimes, youth aging out of foster care may not have had a family support system," said NECIC Executive Director Deanna West-Torrence. "As they are transitioning into adulthood, home and life skills become imperative. Their table of mentors become that person's network of support."

According to TheOpenTable.org, "Each Table is composed of a group of volunteers that make a year-long commitment to act, through relationship, as a team of life specialists, encouragers, and advocates. Over the course of a year, the Table works together to set goals, foster accountability, and implement a plan to create change."

West-Torrence explained that this is a nationwide, evidence-based model. "The outcomes are incredible," she said, "with 9 out of 10 participants staying in relationships with their table members after completion of their year in the program."

She added that one-to-one mentoring, especially with an individual with high needs, can be very heavy on one person, but this model allows a shared responsibility, creating a new family-type unit for the individual. Additionally, this model encourages community members to share their assets, make a connection, and be a part of something transformational for the young person.

NECIC will host a series Open Tables Recruitment sessions at its office, 134 N. Main St., in Mansfield. The courses will be held Feb. 20, from 5-6:30 pm, Feb. 21, from 11 am to 12:30 pm (participants are welcome to bring a lunch), and Feb. 21, from 4:30-6 pm. Those who are interested can contact Nyasha Oden at 419-522-1611 ext 112.

The initiative is supported by a grant from the SN and Ada Ford Fund.

The March of Prayer services return to local churches

The March of Prayer is returning to Richland County, giving opportunity for more than two months of evening prayer services, each night in a different church.

The services, 6-8 pm each night, will lift up Mansfield, Richland County, and issues of concern in prayer, each with music and styles authentic to the hosting congregation. All are welcome to attend each or all of the services.

This is the second year such a schedule has been created. Last year, services were held in 49 different locations and the event was organized by Pastor Paul Lintern and Jordon Baker with the intention of having a service each night in March. Once the services began, other churches asked to join in, and the schedule was expanded to Easter.

This year, the schedule has been filled from March 1 until Easter on April 12, with the intention of adding 24 more dates until May 7, which is the National Day of Prayer. It will be 65 evenings in all.

The events are using the themes such as, "Mansfield is God's field" and "Richland is God's Land."

Both Baker and Lintern will offer "preludes" to the event.

Baker will host a "Burn Worship and Prayer Night," Friday, Feb. 28, from 6 pm to midnight, at Upper Room Mansfield, 309 Park Avenue West. Parking is available behind the building and next door. Several worship bands will lead throughout the evening. Baker recently accepted the position of Midwest Regional Director for Burn 24-7. He will be encouraging and strengthening more than 20 sites across 10 midwestern states.

On Saturday, Feb. 29, Lintern will offer a "Leap of Faith" concert at 6:30 pm in the Great Room of St. Luke's Point of Grace, 2 Marion Ave., Mansfield, which is also the home of Church Requel. His 75-minute performance will feature a dozen popular songs he has "altered" and performed in more than a hundred concerts over a three decade period. Songs feature the tunes of Billy Joel, Elvis, Glenn Miller, Smokey Robinson and Frank Sinatra, all adjusted to be songs of faith. The performance is free and open to all.

Fast start gives Ontario Warriors first twin sweep of Clear Fork Colts in 25 years

By Jim Warne

ONTARIO — For the second time this season good outside shooting lifted Ontario to a big win over Clear Fork, this time at 64-48. The Warriors scorched the nets at the Colt Corral for 15 treys to open the slate. They only canned seven this round, but were hot early on while the Colts were cold from the field until after the half.

It was the first time in a quarter of a century that OHS has double swept Clear Fork, although the rivals were not members of the same conference for 38 years until both joined the MOAC three seasons ago, so it was not possible for a double sweep except for years they collided in the tournament. The locals made it to state 25 years ago, and the Colts might have done it had it not been for Warriors, who nipped them 66-64 to begin the campaign and edged them again for the district championship 74-67 in double overtime.

Griffin Shaver fired in 10 of his game high 19 points in the first quarter while Shaquan Coburn tossed in 12 of his 17 in the first half as Ontario jumped all over Clear Fork before intermission constructing a 19 point lead. Kolten Kurtz earned coach Joe Balogh's defensive player citation, holding CF sharpshooter Brennan South to just three points prior to intermission. Brady Tedrow was leading the Colts despite having only four points at the half.

South found the range in the third stanza but the margin dwindled as much due to OHS misses at the charity stripe. Clear Fork finally cut the gap to less than 10 after Ontario's final errant free throw toss two minutes into the fourth frame. After Amil Upchurch cashed both ends of a two shot foul, Clear Fork whittled the spread to 54-47 after a South traditional three point play. But they would put only one more point on the board the remainder of the fray. Forced to pressure hard trying to cause turnovers, the visitors were burned three times down the stretch by long Shaver assists to Kurtz for fastbreak layups.

Coburn had a tremendous shooting night, cashing 3 of 4 trey tries and 4 of 5 deuces. He nearly made it a double double by ripping down nine rebounds. Shaver did reach that plateau pulling in ten boards. He also dished off eight assists and pilfered the Colts on three occasions. Ty Namenyi was accorded off the bench honors. Upchurch and Jon Nagel rejected a pair of enemy shots.

The OHS reserves got back to their winning ways drubbing the guests 53-36. Owen Hatfield was 5 for 7 from the field obtaining his 13 points. Gage Weaver drove the paint a lot and got as many counters making baskets as he did free throws to notch 12 markers. Jacob Barabani almost reached double digits with nine. Weaver swept the backboards eight times while Alex Rathburn collared five rebounds. Hatfield earned coach Tim Henige's bench laurels leading the squad in scoring and in assists with five of those. The jayvees had a field day filching the ball from the Colts 17 times. Weaver generated five thefts with Barabani, Hatfield and Darian Delbrugge joining in three times each.

Changes made to polling locations

The Richland County Board of Elections will not be changing any polling places for the March 17 Primary Election. The only exception would be in the case of an emergency, such as a fire or other disaster at one of our voting sites. If this were to happen, the affected voters would be notified through a mailed notification, if time permits, and/or press releases and social media.

One small change was necessary at a voting location in the Ontario/Springfield Township area of the county.

Due to a scheduling conflict, for the March 17 Primary Election only, voters will need to use a different entrance to access the fellowship hall at the Ontario Christian Fellowship Church, 636 S. Lexington-Springmill Rd., for voting for this election.

Voters should still park in the back parking area. They will need to use the entrance door to the south of the door that was their previous entrance. A large "Vote Here" sign will designate the correct entrance. There are steps to go down to access the voting area, or a small elevator is available if needed.

Individual postcard notifications were mailed to each voter in the Ontario 2-A, Springfield-B and Springfield-D precincts within this location.

Additionally, the River of Life Church, 111 W. Elm St., Butler, has changed their name. This voting location for Worthington-A and Worthington-B precincts in the southern part of the county is now called The Connection Church.

Avery Coleman scores 30 in Lady Lex blitz of Rams

By Jim Warne

MADISON TOWNSHIP — Avery Coleman authored one of the finest games in the history of Lexington girls' basketball at the start of this month and did it on the visitor's home court no less at the Madison Middle School. Coleman canned 13 of her 16 field goal tries for an astounding 81 percent accuracy and meshed 4 of 5 free throws in putting 30 points on the board for Lady Lex. She outscored the Rams as a team and notched more than half of her club's counters in the 57-25 romp. Coleman yanked down 14 rebounds, seven on each end of the floor, and stole the ball four times.

The fray was close for just a couple of minutes wherein two lead changes and two ties happened. Afterward, it was all Lexington with the visitors rattling off a 28-3 rampage after the final deadlock at 5-5. The home team fared the best right after halftime when they engineered an 8-2 run that nearly allowed them to play LHS even for the third stanza. A much better job putting the ball through the hoop was the main cog in the win. The other significant statistic was the 12-0 advantage Lexington wielded on points tallied on second shot possessions.

Gabby Stover joined Coleman in producing a double double, but not in the usual way. Stover tossed in 12 points but aided Avery's monster outing by dishing off 11 assists. Stover grabbed six rebounds and Josie Dahlinghaus nabbed five. Josie pilfered the hosts thrice. Lizzie Hamler and Coleman each smacked a Madison cast at the hoop back toward its sender.

Chesney Davis topped the Lady Rams with nine counters, four rebounds and three steals. Jennifer Wigton dropped in six points. Debra Faith Kuhn was the only other member of the home team to connect more than once from the field. Leah Boggs issued most of her squad's assists with five. Madison won the JV preliminary tiff 46-34.

Waldruff, Berry lead Minutemen to season sweep of Ashland Arrows

By Jim Warne

LEXINGTON — Max Waldruff and Kaydan Berry both had good marksmanship in their second round matchup versus improving Ashland, leading the Minutemen to a 62-52 triumph. Waldruff used his height to great advantage pumping in 19 points on 7 for 11 shooting. He swatted a trio of Arrow scoring attempts and tied with teammate Isaiah Pack as the game's top rebounder at nine. Kaydan Berry was much hotter on the offensive end than usual, nearly pulling even with Max flipping in 18 points including success on 2 of his 3 launches from beyond the arc and went 7 of 12 overall.

Lexington won both halves 31-26 but that implies much more consistency than actually occurred. There were 13 lead changes and four ties in this debacle. Just when the Minutemen were beginning to build some cushion by the early third period a 9-0 Arrow run turned it into a dogfight again. Ashland's superb freshman Grayson Steury was a sizzling 4 for 5 from downtown and 6 of 8 overall to pace the visitors. The locals finally exploded on offense in the last period scoring 14 out of 16 points in one stretch to clinch it.

The hosts were efficient getting the ball inside where they connected almost 60 percent of the time. In contrast, Ashland had to fire up 23 long shots although they hit a respectable nine of them. Lex offset that by outscoring the Arrows in the paint 24-8. Dylan Spears was a third LHS cager in double figures at 10 while Pack just missed it with nine. Danny Shaffer ran down six rebounds and tallied a like number of points. Berry drew six fouls in the fray and handed out seven assists. He pick-pocketed the guests thrice. Pack stuffed Ashland five times in the contest while Spears bashed a pair of their attempts, giving Lexington a whopping 10 blocked shots for the Tuesday evening battle.

The LHS reserve team finished out January with back to back nine point victories, taking down the Arrows 45-36 and Madison 49-40.

Stover nets 22 as Lex blasts Arrows

By Jim Warne

ASHLAND — The stunning comeback victory over West Holmes sparked a Lady Lex drive for an OCC title. The next opponent was Ashland where Gabby Stover scorched the nets for 22 points to ignite a 56-30 rout of the Arrows.

Stover went 4 for 6 from inside the arc and 4 for 8 beyond it. She also snared eight rebounds and doled out three assists. Avery Coleman made double digits at 11 enjoying a 5 for 6 stint at the foul line. This contest was never in doubt as the Lexington girls led wire to wire, shutting out the home team in the opening period and by the last three minutes of the first half they had built a giant 22-2 lead. The Arrows were competitive in the third quarter itself by chucking up lots of long shots and hitting enough to stay about even, but they never cut much into the 20 point deficit. They were only 3 of 21 overall in the first half.

Coleman topped everyone on the boards with 10. Both Lizzie Hamler and Josie Dahlinghaus pulled down five caroms. Emma Sturts handed out five assists. Coleman swatted the hosts thrice and Sturts rejected them once. Kaleigh Leadbetter was perfect from the field and the stripe for her six points. Dahlinghaus was 3 of 5 shooting for hers.

Breana Plank scored 57 percent of her team's tally with her seven field goals. No other Arrow made more than one basket. Ashland took the JV game 40-30.

Junior Elle Schmitz followed with six 2-pointers for 12 points. Mia Kurtz finished with 8 points.

Sykes named Ms. Wheelchair Ohio

North Central State College student Laura Sykes has been named Ms. Wheelchair Ohio 2020. She was crowned during a ceremony on campus Feb. 11, in front of her friends, family and classmates.

Ms. Wheelchair America originally started as a state contest in Ohio 22 years ago but has grown to the national level. Sykes will now represent people with disabilities across the state.

"I really am honored. I am looking forward to mentoring spinal cord injury survivors because I've gone through it myself."

On Nov. 13, 2015, a semi-truck hit the car Sykes was traveling in as a passenger. Her vertebrae were shattered leaving her paralyzed. She now wants to help educate those around Ohio about overcoming adversities.

"I chose to call my Ms. Wheelchair America platform 'Sudden Impact'. The title represents how a moment can impact every aspect of a person's life and the lives of his/her family," she explains. "My primary goal will be to educate, support, and encourage spinal cord injury survivors to continue achieving their dreams."

Sykes is also a standout student at North Central State College with a 3.9 GPA. She is currently majoring in human services. She is scheduled to graduate in spring 2021.

Sykes will spend her time traveling around Ohio speaking on behalf of those with disabilities and sharing her courageous story. In the summer, she will compete in the Ms. Wheelchair America in Little Rock, Arkansas. Sykes is originally from Florida and resides in Shelby.
