Pork Lettuce Wraps

By Kim Sterry

Ready for a refreshing recipe? Our Pork Lettuce Wraps fit that bill. Your taste buds will not be disappointed!

Ingredients

- 2 lbs ground pork
- 2 tbsp. olive oil
- 5 cloves garlic, chopped
- 1 tsp. fresh ginger, minced
- 1/4 tsp. onion powder
- 2 tbsp. rice vinegar
- 4 tbsp. soy sauce
- 4 tbsp. brown sugar
- salt and pepper
- 1/4-1/2 cup shredded carrots (I use matchstick)
- 1/4 cup chopped mushrooms (optional)
- Scallions for topping
- Red, yellow or orange peppers, sliced thin
- Bibb lettuce
- Cooked rice
- Hoisin or Terriyaki sauce to drizzle on wrap

Instructions

In a saute pan, heat oil, add garlic and pork. Cook 5-10 minutes and add remaining ingredients except carrots. (I like to add these almost at the end so they still have a little crunch). You can also use more uncooked carrots for a topping as well. Continue cooking through, add salt and pepper to taste and you are ready to go!

A Lexington store with history

By Bob Carter

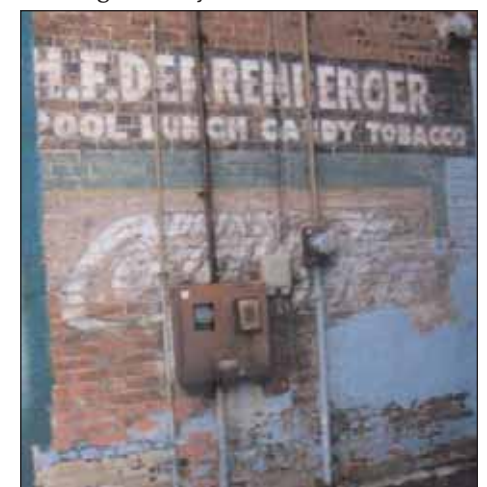

Only two old Lexington businesses have their history on the outside. Kell Hardware advertises its 1886 beginning and the other is on the Vidonish Studios building on East Main St.

An early advertising sign painted on the alley side denotes H.F. Derrenberger's pool room which also provided lunch, candy and tobacco etc. In the previous years it held the "Big Store" by the partners of J.W. George and G.S. Stough and its windows advertised everything from soft drinks to post cards. The lunch room was popular but competed with the saloon next door except when at times when the town was voted dry.

The "Big Store" was in the tallest building in town, all of three stories high. The second floor was living quarters and the top floor was the Odd Fellows Hall and other groups. That was a popular meeting place for clubs at one time but as years passed interest waned as perhaps members became more normal and they disbanded. Derrenberger was a later building owner and it was he that had the signs painted on the brick wall which are still, with some difficulty readable today. The electrical meters try to hide its past history. There were other tenants in the store room over the years, but it was usually a lunch room and pool hall. Roy Swigart ran the place during prohibition and later Ed Ink had his business in the 1940s.

In the 1950s Ralph Lutz owned the lumber yard and married his long time secretary Ruth Derrenberger. Due to the open wooden stairway all the way to the third floor, it was deemed a fire hazard and not usable. Lutz hired a contractor and had the top floor torn off and a new roof built. That's the long and short of the building's history.

RICHLAND COUNTY Democratic Party chair Larry Weirich hosted a small reception at the Democratic Party headquarters in honor of the 2019 Democrat of the Year and Lifetime Achievement Awards. The Democrat of the Year award was presented to Jody Nash (left photo) for her leadership of the Women's Caucus and her involvement in supporting Democratic candidates. The John J. Rinehart Lifetime Achievement award was presented to Plymouth resident Doug Dickson for his long time dedication and involvement in the Democratic Party and the Shelby Area Democratic Club.

Mansfield Art Center presents "Transformations"

Cancer has many faces and those faces are currently being shown in the Foundation Gallery of the Mansfield Art Center. This exhibition honors the cancer journey and is a voice for many in all different stages of the disease.

Each piece of art is an expression of the cancer patient created by using radiation masks and unused chemotherapy bags.

These are masks that have been sanitized and used in the artist/patient's treatment. Under the guidance of Dawn Freeman, MA, Art Therapist, the masks are created into works of art, each one unique to the creator, with a story describing the feelings that went into the mask.

According to Dawn Freeman, "Studies re-affirm the efficacy of art therapy in the cancer care setting. Art assists in alleviating symptoms associated with cancer and it's treatments as well as marked overall improvement in well-being."

Freeman notes that this program was started in 2013 through the Mansfield and Sandusky Cleveland Clinic locations. The value of art therapy, if done for at least two hours a week has been proven to promote and empower healing.

The exhibition will be available through Sept. 13 at the Mansfield Art Center, 700 Marion Ave., Mansfield, and is free and open to the public. Hours are currently 11 am to 4 pm, Tuesday through Sunday. Masks and social distancing are required. For further information visit mansfieldart-center.org.

Mosquitoes carrying West Nile Virus detected in Jefferson Township

Richland Public Health officials have been notified by the Ohio Department of Health that West Nile virus (WNV) has been detected in mosquitoes in Jefferson Township.

"To be very clear, this is not a human infection case, but the first positive WNV mosquito samples in Richland County this year," Joe Harrod, Director of Environmental Health at Richland Public Health, stated. Health department officials will be spraying the WNV positive area in Jefferson Township to discourage transmittal of the mosquito-borne illness to residents.

West Nile virus is a mosquito-borne virus where human symptoms are generally mild and often mimic the flu. In extreme cases, WNV can cause Encephalitis (inflammation of the brain), Meningitis (inflammation of lining of the brain and the spinal cord) or death. Approximately 80 percent of people who are infected with WNV will not show any symptoms at all. Those who develop symptoms usually do so between three to 14 days after they are bitten by an infected mosquito. There is no specific treatment for WNV infection and care is based on symptoms. The best way to prevent West Nile virus is to prevent mosquito bites.

Richland Public Health's Mosquito Control Program conducts surveillance, treats, and sprays throughout the season to monitor mosquito populations and mosquito-spread disease throughout the county. Residents are encouraged to eliminate standing water and take precautions to protect themselves and loved ones from mosquito bites.

Mosquitoes lay their eggs in standing water, which includes puddles, stagnant ditches, and containers such as old tires, buckets, cans, neglected swimming pools and flower pots. Mosquitoes can carry diseases, including West Nile virus, which can cause serious illness. It is important to apply mosquito repellent when participating in any outdoor activity when mosquitoes are active.

Richland Public Health recommends residents follow these tips to help avoid mosquito bites:

- Make sure that doors and windows have tight-fitting screens.
- Repair or replace all torn screens in your home.
- Remove all discarded tires from your property.
- Dispose of tin cans, plastic containers, ceramic pots, or similar water-holding containers.

• Make sure roof gutters drain properly. Clean clogged gutters in the spring and fall.

• Clean and chlorinate swimming pools, outdoor saunas, and hot tubs. If not in use, keep pools/saunas empty and covered.

• Drain water from pool covers.

• Change the water in bird baths at least once a week.

• Turn over plastic wading pools, and wheelbarrows, etc. when not in use.

• Clean ditches of obstructions so they drain properly.

• Eliminate any standing water that collects on your property.

• Check trees for cavities that hold water and fill them with soil, gravel, or sand.

• Remind or help neighbors to eliminate breeding sites on their properties

• Use insect repellent and follow the label directions.

St. Baldrick's continues

The St. Baldrick's fundraiser, like many events, has been changed to a virtual event. The head shaving fundraiser is held each year to collect money to fund pediatric cancer research. This is the 14th year for the local event.

The original modified plan for the local St. Baldrick's head shaving event, which is typically held at Legends Sports Grill and Pub each March, was to switch things up a bit and possibly find an outdoor venue at a later date. With the continuation of the COVID situation, a new plan had to be devised.

St. Baldrick's celebrates its 20th year of existence. Although the organization will face new challenges with fundraising, volunteers and organizers feel that some funds are better than no funds.

Everyone is invited to the virtual head shaving event. To join, register at <https://www.stbaldricks.org/events/legends2020>. Contact supporters for donations. It will work best if supporters donate online under the participant's name. If that is not possible, participants should collect the money then post online.

Those having their head shaved can choose a date that works for them and have it filmed. The video can then be posted online under the local site or email to judywithstbaldricks@gmail.com.

Participants are welcome to let supporters know the time of the shaving and set up a live feed through Facebook or Zoom. The event will be closed on Sept. 17, six months after the usual date for the St. Baldrick's Head Shaving event. For information email judywithstbaldricks@gmail.com.

Volunteers needed for Ombudsman program

Those with a heart for older adults in the community can make a difference by becoming an Ombudsman Associate and volunteer just four hours a month with Ohio's Long-Term Care Ombudsman Program.

Volunteers are the first contact most older adults and families will have with the program. Volunteers typically visit nursing and assisted living home residents but are unable to do so at this time. Currently, volunteers call several residents and their family members or friends to check on individuals.

Volunteers receive at least 12 hours of training and are certified to perform certain duties, including providing residents with information about the program and resident rights, assisting with handling uncomplicated complaints, being a voice for those who are unable to make their voice heard and enhancing the quality of life of nursing home residents

$548,000 in scholarships awarded by foundation

The Richland County Foundation recently awarded $548,000 in scholarships for the 2020-'21 school year to Richland County students. Scholarships are awarded based on a student's financial need and grade point average.

RCF Scholarship Committee Chairwoman Jana Mulherin reported during the August Board of Trustees meeting that 246 students received scholarships from 65 various funds. Ninety-six percent of the students will attend an Ohio college or university. Of the recipients, 47% are freshmen, 20% sophomore, 12% junior, 18% senior and 3% other. The average scholarship amount slightly increased this year to $2,230 compared to last year's average of $2,223.

So far this year, the foundation has awarded $18,000 in career tech education scholarships to 14 students on a rolling basis. The Board of Trustees earmarked additional money for CTE scholarships to better meet the needs of students and to build a stronger, well-trained local workforce. The CTE scholarship application is available at richlandcountyfoundation.org.

Those who are interested in learning more about how to set up a scholarship fund to benefit local students at the Richland County Foundation can call 419-525-3020.

What a way to travel! A small toy dog seems to be hitching a ride on what may have been his home at one time.

Art center presents 75th Annual May Show

August is the new May at the Mansfield Art Center this year. One of the art center's most popular shows must go on, even a few months late.

One hundred Ohio artists submitted 224 pieces, juried by Andy Hudson, collector and artist. "The breadth and depth of the entries was overwhelming", according to Hudson. After many hours of reviewing and selecting works, Hudson chose 121 works representing 76 artists.

As an artist, collector and docent at three contemporary art galleries, Dr. Hudson comes with a vast amount of experience. "In these times of a world pandemic, it's reassuring to know COVID-19 can't stop the creation of wonderful contemporary art and the May Show entries are ample proof of the fact," says Hudson. "The creativity and vision of the artists represented here should reassure us all that the spirit of originality and imagination cannot be quashed even by endemic adversity."

The Best of Show award was given to artist Randy Bennett of Rudolph, OH, for his body of work, consisting of four mixed media pieces. The show's sponsor, Mechanics Bank, provided Awards of Excellence to Ron Abrams, Martha Fort, Chris Misencik-Bunn and Laura Barhardt Corle. Sarah Torgison received the Whitten Studio Award for ceramics.

Cathy Huber received the Sid Yellen Award for photography. The Margaret Twitchell Swank Award for Painting was received by Judith Smith Miller. Susan B. Smith Award for Fiber was received by Barbara Nell Morejon.

Three Blick Art Material Awards for Innovation were received by MP Marion, Steven Stemple and Janet L. Marsano. Honorable Mentions were awarded to Peggy Stover, George Whitten, Susan Shafer, Robin Roberts, Mary Holobaugh and Benjamin Johnson.

The show will be up through Sept. 13 at 700 Marion Ave., Mansfield and is open from 11 am to 4 pm Tuesday through Sunday. This event is free and open to the public. For information visit mansfieldartcenter.org. Masks are required.

As of today we are all systems ahead and youth soccer is a go for this fall. The Warrior soccer teams are in a league (AYSA) with Ashland, Clear Fork, Crestview, Lexington, Lucas, Mansfield Christian, Madison, Mansfield City, St. Pete's and Willard. Two thousand athletes from ages 7-14 will have home and away games against our Warriors teams during the fall season.

OYS is excited to offer our recreation athletes and coaches Applesed Academy this fall. The goal of the academy is to allow community-based programs to offer training for local athletes that choose not to travel; as well as offer recreational coaches an educational experience that will allow them to coach at a higher level.

Our first ever Bike with OPD was a huge success. Special thank you to the Ontario Police Department for taking part in this event and helping make sure our Ontario kids had a great time. Tip of the hat to Besta Fasta Pizza for providing refreshments.

Fall softball and baseball is right around corner. The Warriors will take the field in the River Valley Fall Softball League and the Bucyrus Fall Baseball League. The teams will play double headers on Sundays starting first of September through mid-October.

Our 3rd Annual Can U Picture Ontario — OYS's 20-day photography contest is coming soon. Follow OYS on Facebook for details.
