Students help Willeke as she logs 26.2 miles for Boston Marathon

Meghan Willeke, the cross country coach and ELA 2 teacher at Ontario, qualified for the Boston Marathon, which was turned into a virtual event because of COVID-19.

Although she couldn't attend the "real event," her student athletes helped to cheer her on and run with her during her 26.2 miles through Lexington.

Ontario students Owen Vick and Aria Reuer began running with Meghan at 5 am and took her through the first 5.5 miles. Ontario graduate Anna Gregg jumped in from 5.5 until 13.3 as they bat-led many hills.

"My student athletes Ellie Maurer, Miles Meisse and Cori Wentz helped me through the roughest next 7+ miles of my life," said Willeke, "and my friend Sara Webb dragged me through the last five."

Willeke's friend Ali Haver DeGreen followed along with her by bike the entire run, supplying endless water, Powerade and music. Willeke's mom also drove around to cheer her on, starting at 5 am.

She finished with an official time of 3:57:55.

"Despite feeling the absolute worst I've ever felt, running my slowest time of three marathons so far, and having to walk once a mile after mile 14, I finished" said Willeke. "That was the only goal. I wanted to quit really badly at 12, and I can say with absolute certainty that I wouldn't have gone another step if not for all of those who went with me along the way."

"I am so lucky to have athletes that repeat my own advice back to me and remind me to give myself grace. I'm even more thankful to be loved so well by these humans."

List expanding as local food growers and producers add information to website

Now, more than ever, buying locally grown and produced food is vital to our community. With the events of 2020 impacting some food availability, a list is being assembled of where consumers may purchase food grown and produced in Richland County. The goal is to connect local food producers to consumers. Consumers may develop a better understanding of where their food comes from, how it is produced and get to know the people who have a passion for offering fresh food.

"Connecting local food producers with local businesses is a great thing for all," said Erica Thomas, Director, Richland Soil and Water Conservation District. "It keeps the money local while getting fresh, locally grown produce into more local businesses like restaurants, hospitals, nursing homes and schools. It makes sense to support the growers in our community and sustain them through these difficult times."

Local food growers and producers are invited to complete a brief form to be added to the list. The form may be found at <https://forms.gle/pGCJt6ePypFYUiXb7>.

To see which local growers and producers are on the list so far, go to <https://richlandswcd.net/>. The list will continue to be updated as new options are added.

FOSTERING GOOD

WE'VE BEEN NURTURING LIVES FOR 75 YEARS.

Thanks to generations of generous donors, the Richland County Foundation has distributed $95.8 million in grants over the last 75 years. Our strategic philanthropy continues to enhance local community and economic development, education, the arts, families, health services and much more. See how we foster good at rcf75.org.

Foundation to host Richland Gives

Richland Gives registration for Richland County based nonprofit organizations is open through Oct. 31. It is free; however, nonprofit organizations must register each year.

Richland Gives is designed to encourage people to contribute to local nonprofits they care about through a single giving website. The Richland County Foundation hosts the day to build capacity, grow philanthropy and make the community stronger.

The COVID-19 pandemic has adversely affected revenue streams for many local charities.

Each organization will have an individualized web page to promote their cause. The success of the event will depend on our collective enthusiasm and implementation.

Leading up to the event the Foundation provides an online toolkit, webinars, mass media and social media coverage to make it easier for nonprofit organizations to participate.

Thanks to the generosity of donors at the Richland County Foundation, $34,000 in incentives will be awarded as grants to participating organizations, beyond what they raise from online donations.

A $1,000 grant to the first 15 nonprofit organizations that raise at least $1,000 online via the Richland Gives website beginning Nov. 16 at 7 am. Additional prize grants will be awarded to the nonprofits during Richland Gives.

For more details or to donate visit richlandgives.org.

The Richland County Foundation, a not-for-profit 501(c) (3) organization, was established in 1945 as a way for individuals to pool and invest their gifts for the long-term good of Richland County and its residents.

Chocolate Walk & Hop set for Oct. 1-4

Over 30 businesses will participate in the first annual Richland Chocolate Walk & Hop Oct 1-4.

The four-day event features a variety of businesses located throughout Richland County providing sweet treats to chocolate walkers as they enjoy an autumn adventure hopping from shop to shop.

There are only 300 tickets available at $25 each. In addition to receiving the treats, chocolate walkers will also earn entries into a drawing for a pair of Carmel Kiss chocolate-colored diamond earrings worth over $1,200.

Each walker will receive a Chocolate Passport which will list all the participating merchants along with a map and a goodie bag. As they visit each merchant, their passport will be stamped when they receive their chocolate treat. Another stamp will be given if they make a purchase, with a third stamp given when the walker takes a selfie in the store and posts it to a social media venue. Walkers are instructed to drop their passport off at their last stop before Monday, Oct. 5. Entries will be issued for each stamp on every card. The drawing for the diamond earrings will be held during a live-stream of the drawing on the Holmes County Chocolate Walk Facebook page at noon on Oct. 8.

Tickets can be purchased at www.richlandchocolatewalk.com. Proceeds go to support The Food Pantry at the Revival Hub of Ohio. For more information, contact Kori Serrano at 740-681-5658.

September is National Preparedness Month

National Preparedness Month (NPM) is recognized each September to promote family and community disaster and emergency planning now and throughout the year. It's an opportunity to remind citizens that everyone must prepare themselves and their families for when an emergency happens. This year's NPM will focus on that planning, with an overarching theme: "Disasters don't wait. Make your plan today."

The goal of NPM is to increase the overall number of individuals, families, and communities that engage in preparedness actions at home, work, business, school, and place of worship. All individuals should take time to learn lifesaving skills such as CPR and first aid, and check insurance policies and coverage for the hazards that may come, such as flood, earthquakes, and tornadoes. Make sure to consider the costs associated with disasters and save for an emergency. Also, know how to take practical safety steps like shutting off water and gas.

The current pandemic, hurricanes and wildfires have reminded the nation of the importance of preparing for disasters. Often, citizens will be the first ones in the communities to take action after a disaster strikes and before first responders arrive, so it is important to prepare in advance.

The website www.ready.gov is a tool for preparedness with information and links to additional resources. There is information on how to make a disaster or emergency plan and how to make an emergency kit or "bug-out bag."

Richland Public Health also has local disaster information on the emergency preparedness page located under the "Your Home" link at richlandhealth.org. There, is an alphabetical listing of 60 downloadable PDF documents from the American Public Health Association (APHA) covering a variety of Emergency Preparedness issues.

Also, on that site is a link to the Richland Public Health Emergency Response Plan, created along with the Shelby City Health Department. This plan was approved by the Ohio Department of Health as part of Ohio's Public Health Emergency Preparedness (PHEP).

NPM is sponsored by the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA)

"Ready Campaign" in partnership with Citizen Corps to encourage Americans to make sure they are prepared for disasters or emergencies in their homes, businesses, and communities.

Diagnosed with prostate cancer? Know your options.

Shiby Paul, MD
Cleveland Clinic
Cancer Center

Prostate cancer is the second leading cause of cancer death in men in the U.S., but many men never know they have it. That's why screening is so important.

"Some prostate cancers are slow growing and low risk. It may be years before they cause any symptoms or health problems," says Shiby Paul, MD, a Cleveland Clinic Cancer Center radiation oncologist in Mansfield. "For some men with these low-risk cancers, the potential side effects are enough reason to hold off on any treatment. They choose to practice active surveillance, closely monitoring the cancer's progress over time."

For prostate cancers that are more aggressive, treatment may be needed sooner than later. An imaging study will likely be done to determine the extent of the cancer, and if it has spread.

The type of treatment is largely the choice of the patient, his family and physician. Treatments options include:

- Surgical removal of the prostate and nearby lymph nodes.
- External beam radiation – high-energy x-rays are delivered to the prostate from a machine outside the body.
- Brachytherapy – small "seeds" that release radiation are inserted into the prostate.
- Cryotherapy – a probe is used to freeze and kill cancer cells.
- High-intensity ultrasound – high-energy sound waves kill the cells.
- Focal therapy – destroys small tumors in the prostate using different noninvasive techniques.

"Men diagnosed with prostate cancer should know that advances in treatment have resulted in one of the highest survival rates of any type of cancer," says Dr. Paul.

To schedule an appointment with Dr. Paul or another Cleveland Clinic Cancer Center specialist in Mansfield, call 419.756.2122.

American Red Cross in need of blood donations

The American Red Cross needs volunteers to give blood to help ensure a continued blood supply.

All blood types are needed to ensure that the right blood product is available at the right time for all patients.

Make an appointment to donate by downloading the free Red Cross Blood Donor App, visiting RedCrossBlood.org, calling 1-800-RED CROSS (1-800-733-2767) or enabling the Blood Donor Skill on any Alexa Echo device. Blood drives are also essential in helping ensure blood is available for patients this winter.

To learn more and sign up to host a blood drive this fall or winter, visit RedCrossBlood.org/HostADrive.

The Red Cross is testing blood, platelet and plasma donations for COVID-19 antibodies. The test may indicate if the donor's immune system has produced antibodies to this coronavirus, regardless of whether they developed symptoms.

Donors can expect to receive the results of their antibody test within 7-10 days through the Red Cross Blood Donor App or the donor portal at RedCrossBlood.org.

The Red Cross is not testing donors to diagnose illness, referred to as a diagnostic test. To protect the health and safety of Red Cross staff and donors, it is important that individuals who do not feel well or believe they may be ill with COVID-19 postpone donation.

Each Red Cross blood drive and donation center follows the highest standards of safety and infection control, and additional precautions — including temperature checks, social distancing and face coverings for donors and staff — have been implemented to help protect the health of all those in attendance.

Donors are asked to schedule an appointment prior to arriving at the drive and are required to wear a face covering or mask while at the drive, in alignment with Centers for Disease Control and Prevention public guidance.

In addition to top place prizes, a 50/50 drawing and raffle prize drawings were held.

Return to Prayer events start Friday

September will be a time to return to prayer, according to organizers of a 10-day series of prayer services in the Mansfield area.

Return to Pray, Sept. 18–28, will feature musical praise and worship, repentance and prayer, in conjunction with the lead-up to a national prayer march in Washington, D.C., Sept. 26, said Paul Lintern, local pastor.

"Franklin Graham, Jonathan Cahn and a host of other national Christian leaders are planning the event, not as protest, but submission to God as a nation. We have invited local congregations to host a night, in whatever way is authentic to their style, tradition and calling," Lintern said.

The Rev. El Akuchie, of the Richland Community Prayer Network, says prayer lays the foundation for individual, community and national relationships with God.

"It begins with the one who submits to the Lord, and joins them with a community of believers to stand before God humbly and faithfully," he says.

Locations reflect a diversity of styles, cultures and geography in the area, which points to the unity that is our in Christ alone, he adds.

The event, which begins on the day of the biblical Feast of Trumpets, and concludes on the Day of Atonement, is scheduled for 6:30 to 8 pm each evening at the following locations:

Friday, Sept. 18, The ARC, 378 Park Avenue West
Saturday, Sept. 19, Kingdom Grace Fellowship, 105 Reba Ave.

Sunday, Sept. 20, Church Requel, 2 Marion Ave.
Monday, Sept. 21, Maddox Memorial COGIC, 1148 Walker Lake, Ontario

Tuesday, Sept. 22, GracePoint Sanctuary, 36 Eagle Ct., Lexington

Wednesday, Sept. 23, First Church of the Open Bible, 1150 Rayfield, Madison area

Thursday, Sept. 24, Ontario Christian Fellowship, 636 S. Lex-Springmill, Ontario

Friday, Sept. 25, Bible Walk Museum, 500 Tingley Rd., Madison area

Saturday, Sept. 26, Fusion Church, 220 Industrial Pkwy, Lexington

Sunday, Sept. 27, Evening Prayer Walk, 6–7:30 pm at a location to be named.

Monday, Sept. 28, Sar Shalom Messianic Congregation, 2510 W. Fourth St., 6–7:15 pm

The times of the final two evenings is moved to 6 pm because of sunset soon after 7 pm.

The Saturday event at Fusion will be preceded by additional two-hour prayer sessions at 10:30 am and 1:30 pm.

All events will be streamed live on the Godsfield Facebook page.

The model of various congregations hosting prayer services on successive nights is a September version of the March of Prayer, held in 2019 and 2020, involving more than 50 nights of prayer with hosts representing more than 25 denominations. This year's event, schedule for 65 days, required an adjustment of the last 45 nights on the Godsfield page of Facebook live, plus a 28-hour prayerathon on that site, during the National Day of Prayer, May 7.

Oktoberfest last fall involved more than 20 congregations hosting prayer events, and the Facebook site featured 6 am prayer times each morning in July and August.

"All of the events are placed under the theme, "Mansfield is Godsfield, Richland is God's Land," Rev. Akuchie said.

The final night, at Sar Shalom, coincides with its regular Day of Atonement service, which concludes at sunset, ending a 10-day fast.

"All events are free and open to all. This is a good opportunity to experience worship in arenas that may not be what is most familiar to many, but which will be very familiar in the topic of prayers and the focus on our Heavenly Father, and his son," according to Akuchie.

Thirty species of trees are identified with newly positioned signs. It is hoped that in the future, the arboretum can be expanded to add more species. The trail cover 18.5 miles in total. Attending the ceremony were Jodi Perry, Juli Parsons, Jayson Larson, Mike Henry and Dave Remy.

Statewide campaign aims to lower risk of falling

The Ohio Department of Aging, through its STEADY U Ohio falls prevention initiative, will celebrate Sept. 21–25, as Falls Prevention Awareness Week by encouraging older Ohioans to take 10 BIG Steps to Prevent Falls.

"Falls are a serious concern for older adults. They are the leading cause of fatal and non-fatal injuries among Ohioans age 65 and older," said Ursel J. McElroy, director of the department. "Yet, falls are not a normal part of aging and most falls can be prevented. 10 BIG Steps to Prevent Falls aims to give all older Ohioans and their families tools to lower their risk."

Each day, the department and its falls prevention partners will host a web-based learning opportunity on a different aspect of falls prevention. Each learning opportunity will be paired with a personal challenge or other activity to apply the lessons learned to the individual's home, health, and habits.

Individuals can learn more about all 10 steps, register for webinars, and download related assessments, plans, and checklists on the STEADY U Ohio web page.

The 10 BIG Steps to Prevent Falls:

Monday, Sept. 21: Know your falls risk factors

Step 1: Learn about the factors that increase your risk of falling and steps to reduce your risk.

Step 2: Complete a falls-risk self-assessment and discuss the results with your family and care providers.

Tuesday, Sept. 22: Exercises to reduce your falls risk
 Step 3: Learn about exercises and other physical activity that can reduce your risk of falling.

Step 4: Create a personal exercise plan and try a new exercise.

Wednesday, Sept. 23: Fall-proof your home

Step 5: Learn how to identify and remove falls risks in and around your home.

Step 6: Complete a home hazard walk-through and checklist.

Thursday, Sept. 24: Eat well to prevent falls

Step 7: Learn how a healthy diet can help lower your risk of falling.

Step 8: Create a meal plan to prevent falls.

Friday, Sept. 25: Talk with your health care providers

Step 9: Learn how to talk to your doctor and other health care providers about falls.

Step 10: Complete a medication inventory and discuss it with your health care provider or pharmacist.

Since September 2013, the Ohio Department of Aging's STEADY U Ohio initiative has helped older adults, families, caregivers, professionals, and community leaders understand and recognize age-related factors that increase the risk of falling and fall-related complications. Individuals and organizations can find falls prevention information and resources at www.steadyu.ohio.gov.

According to data from the Ohio Department of Health, one in four Ohioans age 65 and older will fall this year.

Older Ohioans account for a disproportionate share of fall-related injuries. While residents age 65 and older make up 17% of the population, they accounted for more than 87% of fatal falls in 2018.

In 2018, falls among older Ohioans resulted in 78,995 emergency department visits, 19,409 hospitalizations, and 1,309 deaths.

Falls account for 55.9% of fatal traumatic brain injuries among Ohioans age 65 or older and can lead to depression, loss of mobility, and loss of independence.

The estimated total lifetime medical cost of falls (fatal and non-fatal) is $1.1 billion in Ohio. Add costs related to work loss and the total climbs to $2 billion.

In 2018, 61% of falls deaths among adults age 65 and older occurred in the home while 22% occurred in a residential facility, such as a nursing home.

STUDENTS IN ANATOMY AND PHYSIOLOGY at Ontario High School experiment with cell membranes and dialysis. Placing different chemicals in a membrane, students can see what type of transport occurs by testing the water before and after the experiment for chemical and physical changes. Transports tested include osmosis, facilitated diffusion, carrier mediated transport and simple diffusion.
