Bellville Lions Club donates low vision magnifier

Photos and Article By Traci Little

The Bellville Lions Club donated a Merlin Ultra Full HD Video Magnifier machine to the Bellville Branch Library on April 25. It offers full high-definition color and contrast, resulting in sharp, crystal-clear images with vibrant colors. People can easily read books and magazines, write letters, manage financial records, view color photos, do crossword puzzles, and even pursue a favorite hobby.

Bill Henderson, who is heading up the vision reader project for the Lions Club, shared this testimonial, "For a number of years, a certain lady was unable to see pictures of her grandchildren and putting them on the reader enabled her to do that. As you can imagine, she was very excited, and it was an emotional moment for her to be able to see her grandchildren. These are things we take for granted in life, but it was a huge treasure for her."

Many color select options are available for increased contrast on the reader. Depending on a person's eye condition, certain text and background color combinations allow for ease of reading.

Ohio farm woman knew Warren G. Harding

By Bob Carter

Red haired Carrie was quite a woman. In 1967, when I interviewed her, she was thin and frail, but at 87 her mind was still very sharp.

She was born in rural Morrow County, near where the, now gone, crossroads village of Bungtown was. It was located in a triangle between Steam Corners, Blooming Grove and Johnsville.

In general, people living in that area were known for their intelligence.

As a typical ten year old with a curious mind, she remembered the time when she was told to stay away from her mother's new sewing machine. She ran a needle clear through her finger and the scar lasted her whole life.

Carrie Braden was above many because she had a high school education. To do that, she had to go to Galion to live with an aunt. At age 20, she was hired in 1900 to teach at the Jugs Corners one room school house and at a place called Climax.

Jugs Corners was across the road from the present-day Mid Ohio Race Track. She was a good teacher but ran into an ambush one day when a young man came in and sat down in the back of the school room. Carrie asked him several times what he wanted and each time he replied, "nothing."

Then he came back several more times and the answer was always the same, "nothing." It didn't take the kids long to figure out what he wanted — their teacher! There was only one way she could get rid of him, she married him! Thus she became Mrs. Carrie Braden Shuler, wife of farmer Edwin Shuler, which ended her teaching career.

In that era married women were not allowed to teach school, strange as that seems.

In that rural farming area the Braden, Crawford and Harding families were all interrelated. There was a big annual family reunion and Carrie remembered one year when the Hardings furnished all the food.

Senator Warren G. Harding was present, as was his father, George Harding. Carrie recalled having conversations with both men. She said she preferred the elder George Harding because, as she put it, "He was a good talker." She felt Warren Harding wasn't a good conversationalist and seemed to gather with the men and talk politics.

She recalled at one reunion, a call was made for Senator Warren Harding to speak. As Carrie told the story, "Harding got up and said I'm no speaker, I'm just a politician, don't expect me to tell everything, but I'll let my illustrious father speak to you." Then he sat down.

Father George Harding then gave an interesting presentation and could remember everyone's name and thought everybody was his friend, "Nobody was any better than anyone else" Carrie said.

The elder Harding had grown up in the area and attended the one room school at Jugs Corners where she once taught as a young woman. Harding's ancestors had settled near Blooming Grove in 1818.

Carrie said that most of the people at the reunion voted for Harding when he ran for president. She said her mother was able to vote for the first time in 1920 and had voted for him, but Carrie thought, "What did he ever do for me?"

Harding's election to the presidency ended his appearance at the reunions. His term was marred with the Tea Pot Dome oil scandal, crooked administration officials and an extramarital affair.

During a train trip to Alaska, he died while he was in San Francisco Aug. 2, 1923. His remains were brought back to Washington and after memorial services at the Capitol, a special funeral train departed for Marion, the president's hometown.

The train arrived in Mansfield on Aug. 9. It would arrive on the Pennsylvania Railroad and then all funeral cars would be transferred to the Erie Railroad for the final trip to Marion. A call went out to all American Legion members to appear in uniforms as were the Spanish War Veterans, to patrol tracks and traffic.

Thousands were at the station and standing along the tracks in silence with heads bowed as the train arrived. After the cars and engine switch, the train left for Marion at 10:40 am.

Erwin, Carrie and family went to Galion to watch the train slowly pass. She commented, "I don't know whether he had a happy life or not?"

Carrie kept a diary from 1929 to 1972, over 120 pages that were recorded in an old unused account book. It's a Shuler family treasure. Two complete unbound Xerox copies were made, one donated to the Johnsville Public Library and the other to the Ohio Genealogy Society Library. It's interesting reading, a word picture of a farm wife's life.

It is written, "When an elderly person dies a library is lost." Carrie Shuler was 94 when she left us in 1975. The rural school teacher turned farm wife left us a real treasure. She was a good talker.

THIS PHOTO is believed to be a high school graduation photograph of Carrie Braden Shuler. It shows a lovely, but determined young lady. Her red hair was almost hidden by her hat.

WHEN BOB CARTER interviewed Carrie Shuler in 1967, she was 87, mentally sharp and remembered well George Harding and his son, future President Warren G. Harding.

$4 million grant will help with Westinghouse demolition

State Representative Marilyn John (R-Richland County) has announced that a $4 million grant will be awarded to help with the demolition and remediation of Westinghouse building "A".

This funding was made available by the Ohio State Operating Budget, which Representative John supported with a house vote some months ago.

Within the Operating Budget, $500 million was set aside for demolition and brownfield remediation projects throughout the state.

"The Westinghouse building has long been standing in Richland County and is now beyond its life," said John. "It is great to see Governor DeWine committing these resources to make Richland County a better place."

Governor DeWine was at the Westinghouse property Tuesday, April 26 to announce the first round of Ohio Department of Development funding.

Of the funding made available for projects like these $368 million is still available for local governments on a first come first serve basis. They must provide a 25% match for any projects after the guaranteed funds are spent.

May 5 is National Day of Prayer

The local observance of the National Day of Prayer, Thursday, May 5, will be held from 11:30 am to 1 pm at the gazebo on the square in Mansfield.

Each year, the first Thursday in May is recognized as a day to lift in prayer the blessings and concerns, the challenges and opportunities, the heritage and hope.

“We come with rejoicing, reflection and repentance, knowing that all things are in the hands of our Redeemer,” said Rev. Dr. El Akuchie.

“We will pray specifically for those elected to serve, those called to respond to needs, those in whose hands our children’s education is held, and those who move our economy for the benefit of all.”

“We will recognize our officials, first-responders, educators and businesspeople in our time together and hope you will be part of that contingency.”

This year’s theme, “Exalt the Lord, who has established us,” Colossians 2:6-7, is a call to praise in prayer.

If inclement weather, the alternate venue will be at First English Lutheran Church, 53 Park Ave. West, Mansfield.

The Ohio Department of Aging and the Office of the State Long-Term Care Ombudsman celebrate "Empathy in Action" and recognize the priceless contributions of ombudsman volunteers. All Ohioans are invited to contribute their time and empathy toward helping residents of nursing homes, assisted living facilities, and group homes. Visit www.stepup.ohio.gov to learn more and volunteer.

"Volunteering truly is empathy in action," said Ursel J. McElroy, director of the department. "Ombudsman volunteers take that to a higher level by serving as the eyes, ears, and voices for long-term care consumers. They are needed now more than ever."

"Ombudsmen are resident-directed advocates who improve the quality of life and care for long-term care consumers," added Erin Pettegrew, deputy state long-term care ombudsman.

"Throughout the COVID-19 pandemic, ombudsman volunteers have been visiting residents in nursing homes and assisted living facilities, educating them about their rights, and addressing their care concerns."

The pandemic greatly altered the way services and supports were provided to long-term care consumers. The ombudsman program and its volunteers help to ensure that all Ohioans have access to quality care in the settings they choose.

Ombudsman volunteers work with nursing home and assisted living residents, family members, and facility staff and leadership to help resolve care issues. While COVID-19 has made it more important that consumers have an advocate there for them when they need it, the pandemic has also diminished Ohio's team of ombudsman volunteers.

Ohio's 100,000 nursing home and assisted living residents need empathetic advocates looking out for their interests. Ombudsman volunteers regularly visit facilities and speak with residents about their care. Volunteers are linked to their regional ombudsman program and provide services at facilities in their own communities. They receive comprehensive training and support from paid ombudsman staff.

For more information visit www.ombudsman.ohio.gov or call 1-800-282-1206.

All enhanced vision solutions incorporate two to seven color select options. One of the color select options is black and white. It will convert anything you are viewing to a black and white image for increased contrast.

The Bellville Library Branch Manager, Joshua Andra said, “We are very excited about this donation because our library is about enriching the lives of Richland County residents and a big part of that is removing barriers to access. This falls right in line with our mission statement to be able to help those with low vision. This is very important to us.”

100% of all donations to the Lions Club goes right back to the community and none of the money goes towards administrative costs.

Carolyn Brook, current treasurer for the Lions Club, stated, “The Lions Club International Foundation has given out over three million measles shots worldwide. Measles causes blindness, and this makes it extremely beneficial for preventative care. Right now, any disaster that hits anywhere in the world, the Lions Clubs is the first group of people to be there.”

“I am the district coordinator for the International Lions Foundation. Locally, we do a lot with preschool through fifth grade, specifically at Lexington schools, doing vision screening and eye exams and we provide glasses. When it involves children, there’s no questions asked; we immediately take care of that. We’re either working locally or networking with other Lions Clubs across the state and the country to do other projects. With the tornadoes in Kentucky here recently, we were the first ones there. We not only help our own local community, but we help across the globe. There are over 210 countries involved in Lions Clubs. We are the largest service organization in the world, and we beat out everyone else. We are still looking for new members as many of our longtime members are aging out. We help out with youth, teenagers in schools teaching them how to get involved in service projects and helping others.”

“There are fundraisers that are held in order to help out people in many different ways. This is how we were able to purchase the magnifier for the library and the other three for the community,” she said.

She went onto say, “some things we help out with throughout the year are the Bellville Fair, Heritage Days in August, the Malabar Maple Syrup Festival, and most recently we held a spaghetti dinner fundraiser, which was our sixth event. The fundraiser was held at St. Paul Lutheran Church on March 26 and went towards the Honor Flight Network and the Honor Bus program.

Both of these programs provide veterans with an all-expense paid excursions to Washington D.C. in honor and recognition of their service. They visit the veteran memorials that highlight the sacrifices and triumphs of those who served, past and present.”

“There was a family we helped at Christmas a few years ago, where we purchased at least three beds for the family as the children were sleeping on the floor. We bought them clothing, toys, and food. The thankfulness and appreciation we receive makes it all worth it.

“We also helped a single mother last year with some things and she was so appreciative of the Lions Club for all they do. She works at a minimum wage job with two small children, they both needed glasses and we provided that for them. She wouldn’t ask for anything for Christmas for herself, all she wanted was clothes for her kids and no toys. But Santa was definitely bringing them toys.”

She was asked what she needed and she told Carolyn that she needed a winter coat because she was using her coworkers’. She drove her car back and forth to church only. But there was such a noise in it she was scared to drive.

“So, we made a deal with a local business downtown, and we got her car fixed and thank God we did, because it was a wheel bearing. We provide Thanksgiving baskets to people in need and deliver them to different families,” Brook continued.

In January, the club packaged up hundreds of sterilized, recycled medicine bottles and hundreds of eyeglasses to be shipped to people in need.

They also send donations to the refugees in Ukraine. In 2020, they completed 22 shoe boxes for children in third world countries along with the churches in the community.

The Bellville Lions Club’s most recent large project is purchasing flags from Texas that are made by veterans. The Boy Scouts help put them together and display them around town. For a small fee of $35 for the year, citizens can get a flag put up and taken down for Memorial Day, Flag Day, Fourth of July, Patriots Day and Veterans Day. This large and growing project not only is a fundraiser, but it allows the Lions Club to donate funds to the Boys Scouts, American Legion Riders, Gifts for the Yanks, Love Our Hero’s and other important organizations.

The founding father of the Lions Club International, Melvin Jones said, “You can’t get very far until you start doing something for somebody else.” If you are looking for a way to give back to the community, consider joining your local Lions Club.

The Bellville Lions Club has built two pavilions for the village, provided scholarships for seniors at Clear Fork High School, helped families in need, supported the Boy Scouts, and did special programs like the “Parade of Flags” for the village.

The funds that the club raises help go towards causes like hunger, vision, youth, childhood cancer, environmental, disaster relief, diabetes, and humanitarian efforts. Visit the Bellville Ohio Lions Club on facebook at <https://www.facebook.com/BellvilleOhioLionsClub/>

By Traci Little

Madison Comprehensive High School National Honor Society Advisor, Tracey Burden, could not say enough wonderful things about the students volunteering at Madison Community Youth Park. They participated in community service work from about 7:40 am until 2 pm on April 26.

The students and volunteers helped by cleaning up and mulching multiple areas of the park to get it ready for baseball and softball season. They worked with Dave Miller, Madison Youth Park board member, and more of his volunteers to get a lot accomplished.

These are all seniors at Madison High School and have worked really hard to be part of the National Honor Society. They need a minimum amount of hours of community service and this was their end of the year group service project together.

Richland County Foundation grants help meet emerging needs

The Richland County Foundation Board of Trustees approved grants totaling $562,905 during its April meeting.

The Board of Trustees approved a grant from the Community Fund to Downtown Mansfield, Inc. (DMI) for a pilot program to address the needs of the homeless community and the ongoing development of downtown. Richland County Mental Health and Recovery Services Board, Richland County Job and Family Services, Richland County Commissioners, and DMI have partnered with the Mansfield Police Department to develop the program.

A Homeless Response Team consisting of a behavioral health professional and a law enforcement officer will work together. The behavioral health professional will provide mental health and substance use disorder assessments and connect individuals with resources.

The law enforcement officer will provide security and support. The program will begin May 1 and continue through June 30, 2023. Data will be collected and evaluated with a report for potential changes to the program by Sept. 1.

A grant was awarded from the Board Discretionary Fund to the City of Mansfield – Community Development Department to create an incentive for downtown property owners to renovate the upper floors in buildings for additional apartments. The grant supports a project outlined in the Mansfield Rising Plan.

The Princess Endowment's Field Strong Summer Youth Camp received a field of interest fund grant for summer programming. Volunteers will hold a summer camp for area youth in the former Hedges School building.

Four career technical education scholarships were approved for students to earn a certification at a technical institution.

The Scholarship Committee implemented a rolling deadline for CTE scholarships to meet various enrollment deadlines. In aligning with Ohio's Attainment Goal, the Foundation wants to help fill the gap between job openings and certified employees as well as lead the way to support workforce development through CTE scholarships.

The Board of Trustees approved grants from donor-advised funds which allow individuals and families the opportunity to make grant suggestions to favorite charities.

Donor-advised funds are a flexible and convenient alternative to a private foundation. It is also a way to keep charitable contributions anonymous, at the preference of the donor.

The following organizations received grants from donor-advised funds: Altrusa, Catalyst, EHOVE, Friendly House, Friends of the Richland County Park District, Habitat for Humanity, Healthnetwork Foundation Inc., Hospice of North Central Ohio, Kingwood Center Gardens, Lexington Baseball Softball Association, Little Buckeye Children's Museum, Love INC., Lucas Local Schools, Mansfield Art Center, Mansfield Playhouse, Mary McLeod Bethune Intervention and Enrichment Center, North End Community Improvement Collaborative, Ohio Bird Sanctuary, Raemelon Therapeutic Equestrian Center, Renaissance Performing Arts, Richland Academy of the Arts, Richland County Soil & Water Conservation District, Richland Newhope Industries, Richland Pregnancy Services, Ronald McDonald House Charities of Central Ohio, Salvation Army – Dewald Community Center, United Way of Richland County and YMCA of North Central Ohio.

The foundation, a not-for-profit 501c3, was established in 1945 as a way for individuals to pool and invest their gifts for the long-term good of Richland County and its residents.

The foundation helps people in Richland County give back to their community by investing their gifts for charity wisely so that grants can be made to improve the quality of life for all the county's citizens.

Collaborating with donors, the foundation meets important needs today and plans for a strong future.

Foundation creates DVD to help kids who stutter

Kids who stutter have a lot to say, and friends can show them how in Stuttering: For Kids By Kids, a DVD in English and Spanish starring kids who stutter, available at most public libraries or through interlibrary loan.

Many children who stutter have never met others who struggle with the same disability. In this DVD from the Stuttering Foundation, they meet kids who recount how they handle challenges such as teasing, speaking out in class, and teaching others about stuttering.

Swish, a lively and engaging animated basketball character designed by students at Purdue University, narrates the DVD. The children, who range in age from first-graders to high school students, offer frank and sometimes differing views of stuttering.

For example, Matthew, age 10, says about his speech difficulties, "It's no big deal;" but Kate, age 9, worries about talking, what is going to happen next and whether or not she'll stutter. Arianne, age 14, says, "The hardest part about stuttering is to get through it and to stay in there when you're stuck." Umang, age 12, agrees, "Sometimes it gets kind of annoying when you want to say something and you can't. I also get worried what other people might think if I do stutter and wonder if I'll be able to get out of my blocks and things."

"All those interested in helping kids learn more about stuttering will want to see this tape," said speech-language pathologist Bill Murphy of Purdue University. "The children featured are a perfect example of how to openly and honestly handle stuttering." "This is an important tool for families and teachers of kids who stutter," added Jane Fraser, president of the nonprofit Stuttering Foundation.

Other professionals and specialists in stuttering in this production include Kristin Chmela of Northwestern University, Joe Donaher of Children's Hospital of Philadelphia, Lisa Scott of Florida State University, and Lee Caggiano of Friends.

Since 1947, the nonprofit foundation has provided free materials to public libraries nationwide. A library that will shelve them can download a request form at <http://www.stutteringhelp.org/libraries-information>, email info@stutteringhelp.org or call 800-992-9392.

Currently the Mansfield/Richland County Public Library has a copy of the DVD on order.

Act supports Ohio teachers and invests in Ohio students

By Senator Sherrod Brown

The COVID-19 pandemic only highlighted what we already knew — teachers are essential workers. Educators sacrifice so much for their students, and for our state.

Unfortunately, that hard work never pays off the way it should. On average, teachers are paid 20 percent less than other college graduates. Many of them work second jobs just to make ends meet. And on top of that, teachers often spend hundreds of dollars of their own hard-earned money on supplies for their classrooms.

That's why I introduced the Educators Expense Deduction Modernization Act to quadruple the amount that K through 12 educators are able to deduct for classroom expenses on their taxes at the end of the year.

According to a Department of Education study, 94 percent of public-school teachers spend their own money on classroom supplies, and about 1 in 10 teachers spend more than $1,000 each year.

Yet right now, teachers can only deduct a fraction of those costs from their taxes.

The Expense Deduction Modernization Act would raise the amount from $250 to $1,000.

It would also expand the definition of who qualifies for this credit, expanding it to all educators. That means teachers, counselors, principals and other aides would all be able to deduct up to $1,000 for the classroom supplies they end up needing to buy on their own, to make sure our students are getting the education they deserve.

It's a small but meaningful change for the educators who do so much — and often sacrifice so much — for their students and their families and our communities, both inside and outside the classroom.

Ohio educators shouldn't have to dip into their too-small paychecks simply to do their jobs.

I'll continue to work with my colleagues on ways to support Ohio's educators, and deliver real savings for all Ohioans.

MCS trio earns state and national swim honors

Three members of the Trumppower family were honored at a banquet hosted by Ohio Swimming, Inc., on Sunday, April 10.

The event took place at the Manor House Event Center and included over 100 athletes.

Those in attendance were entertained by special guest speaker Coleman Stewart, formerly of NC State University. Stewart is a 2 x NCAA champion, 22 x All-American, American record holder, and current World record holder in the 100 Backstroke (SCM).

Grantham, 14, was recognized for his second place finish in the Ohio Virtual Distance Challenge. During the 2021-'22 season, he also competed for Team Ohio in Indianapolis and served as flag bearer in the opening ceremony of the Mid States All Star Championship.

Grantham was honored to stand next to Olympic Gold Medalist and World record holder Lilly King as she held the American flag during the playing of the "National Anthem."

At the 2022 Ohio Junior Olympic Championship meet, he was a finalist in the 100 Freestyle (10th).

Grantham sums up his season, "Well I had high expectations for the JO meet because my regular season took some time to get to where I wanted to be."

"I decided not to do seven events so I could focus on five of my favorites and also do four relays and just try to enjoy the experience. During the 100 free I did not hear the start because the crowd was so loud. But I knew that God would not leave me, and He didn't. I ended up still posting a best time."

Mirielle, 12, was recognized as the 11-12 Individual High Point award winner at the Ohio Junior Olympic Championship. During the three-day competition, she earned seven medals (six gold, one bronze), and was honored by USA Swimming as a National Top 10 swimmer in her age group for the 50 Butterfly. Mirielle talked about her goals for the weekend, "My main goal this championship meet was to grow closer to God. I really wanted to learn more about Him and I really did. The hardest thing about a Junior Olympic State meet is that you have to race seven events prelims and finals. So you have to swim fast in the morning. I wanted to get my best times in the morning to get a good lane in the A final. And I did that. Then with God's help I trusted him that I would be able to come back each night and swim even faster in all seven events. That is a lot for my body and my mind and so I really felt God was near."

Adayaleise, 10, was recognized for her first place finish in the Ohio Virtual Distance Challenge and received the 10-under Individual High Point award for her incredible swims at the 2022 Ohio Junior Olympic Championship. During the three-day competition, Adayaleise earned a total of seven gold medals and was honored for breaking the 10-under Ohio LSC record in the 500 Freestyle, which had been set in 2003. She was also recognized by USA Swimming as a National Top 10 swimmer in her age group for the 500 Freestyle. Adaya talked about the goals she set as well.

"Every time I get to race, it is a chance to see what God can do. I just really love to swim because I know I will get to spend each lap with Him. I set my goal to only think about the gift it was to be with Him and I prayed He would help me get my best times in everything plus also win all seven events. It was hard to touch the wall first in every race because the other girls were so fast, but I thank God for still giving me that blessing! It was all Him!"

During the fall and winter season, the siblings swam for Rocket Swim Club located in Oak Harbor and were also selected to compete for Team Ohio at the Mid States All Star Championship in Indianapolis.

All three athletes will be swimming for the Clear Fork Piranhas in Lexington this summer and have collectively set 21 Clear Fork pool records and eight GMAC championship records, winning a total of 55 GMAC event titles.

AARP launches online resource center to help protect veterans

Ohio's 864,923 military veterans and active-duty service members are at risk of being targeted by scammers. AARP has launched the AARP Veterans Fraud Center, a new online education and resource center to help protect veterans, service members and their families against fraud.

According to an AARP survey, one in three military/veteran adults reported losing money to scams that are specifically trying to take advantage of the trust they have in the military community.

Veterans, active-duty service members and their families are 40% more likely to lose money to scams and fraud than the civilian population. These individuals lost more than $267 million in 2021, up from $102 million in 2020 (a 162% increase), according to the Federal Trade Commission.

"Targeting scams at members of the military community is unconscionable," said State Director Holly Holtzen. "AARP Ohio has launched this effort to alert veterans and their families of the latest scams and how to avoid them."

Top scams aimed at veterans include:

Benefit Buyouts: Turning over U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) pension and/or disability benefits for a supposed lump-sum payment that never materializes (47%).

Fraudulent records scam: Paying for updated personal military records (32%).

The fake charitable giving request: Donating to fake veteran charities (32%).

Free resources in the AARP Veterans Fraud Center include:

A new AARP Watchdog Alert Handbook: Veterans' Edition, highlighting tips to detect the most common ways con artists target veterans and military families;

The AARP Fraud Watch Network and Scam-Tracking Map; and Operation Protect Veterans — a joint program of the AARP Fraud Watch Network and the U.S. Postal Inspection Service.

Some top tips AARP's Fraud Watch Network recommends include: signing up for the National Do Not Call Registry and using a call-blocking service; using strong and unique passwords for each online account; using two-factor authentication when available; and placing a free security freeze on credit reports at each of the three major credit bureaus. Also, veterans never have to pay for their service records or earned benefits — if told otherwise, it's a scam.

AARP Ohio's Volunteer Speakers Bureau has skilled volunteers trained to help fight and prevent fraud. Speakers provide free presentations via Zoom or in-person to groups throughout the state, including community organizations, private businesses, veteran's organizations, houses of worship, AARP Chapters and more.

In addition to the latest tips on fraud, various presentations that address the issues that matter most to Ohioans 50+ are available. To request a speaker or check out the topics currently available, visit <https://states.aarp.org/ohio/aarp-ohio-speakers-bureau> or call toll-free 866-389-5653.

Funding approved for Mansfield Police

The State Controlling Board has approved the release of $402,418 for the Mansfield Police Department to assist local communities in reducing and preventing crime.

House Bill 110, the State Operating Budget made this allocation possible. It will be used for overtime, equipment, technical assistance, and analytical support to implement crime reduction strategies.

This funding is a part of the Office of Criminal Justice Services grant program within which $4 million has been allocated to various police forces throughout the state.

"Mansfield Police and the community will both benefit from this grant as it will leave our city a safer place to live and raise a family," said state representative Marilyn John.

New cost-share grants announced

In an effort to promote conservation practices by landowners, Richland Soil and Water Conservation District (Richland SWCD) is providing cost-share grants to offset some of the cost of installing a rain garden, purchasing a rain barrel or having soil tested.

Ohio bridge projects receive significant funding increase

Ohio Governor Mike DeWine announced that Ohio's yearly funding allocation for local bridge projects is increasing by $47.5 million for the next five years, bringing Ohio's annual investment in county and municipal bridges to $112.5 million per year.

Funding provided by the Ohio Department of Transportation (ODOT) for bridges maintained by the state's 88 county engineers will increase from $34 million to $74 million annually, and municipal-owned bridge funding will increase from $11 million to $18.5 million each year.

The additional $47.5 million is part of the $104 million in bridge funding that Ohio will receive in each of the next five years as part of the recently enacted federal Bipartisan Infrastructure Law. The law requires Ohio to invest $15.6 million of the $104 million each year into bridges owned by municipalities, townships, and counties, but the announcement more than triples the amount going to local communities.

"Many of the expensive repairs needed on small, locally-owned bridges cost far beyond what our communities can afford, which is why I've directed ODOT to devote more money to support local bridge projects," said Governor DeWine. "By partnering together to ensure the necessary improvements are made, those driving over Ohio's bridges can feel confident that they are safe."

Governor DeWine also announced that small locally-owned bridges will also be eligible for funding as part of ODOT's Local Major Bridge Program, bringing the total number of eligible bridges from 54 to 238. The program pays for up to 80 percent of the construction and engineering costs for major bridge projects with a cap of $20 million.

"ODOT will continue to aggressively address bridges throughout the state that are under our jurisdiction while at the same time doing everything we can to ensure our local partners have the resources they need to address their most critical issues," said ODOT Director Jack Marchbanks.

Local governments can apply for ODOT funding through the ODOT Office of Local Programs website. Ohio's 88 County Engineers will continue to apply for funding through dedicated programs managed by the County Engineers Association of Ohio.

ODOT's total local bridge investment of $112.5 million in each of the next five years combines the new federal funding with other programs that aid local governments. The total investment for both state and local bridges is $407.5 million per year.

THE "AFTER SCHOOL CREW" is at it again. Seated are Eli Johnson, Tony Phillips, Aaron Duncan and Mark Delaney. Standing are Audra Sowash, Jason Fenton, Christine Vermillion and Amber Johnson.

Ontario kids dramatize Tide commercials

The "after school crew" is on TV! In an attempt to win fortune and fame, members of the Ontario After School Program have written a script dramatizing the popular Tide detergent commercials seen on local TV stations. Plans include making a final videotape and sending a copy to the corporation that produces the laundry product.

The idea began after the Ontario group filmed an earthquake spoof and then watched the hilarious results. The kids acted as if they were in a real classroom, complete with 12-year-old "teachers" and the class clown. At a given cue, everyone panicked as if a real earthquake was occurring.

Hey, that turned out pretty well! Why not do a commercial? So they did. Only time will tell if their bid for fame will pan out.
