Red Cross issues call for donors

In September, the American Red Cross stresses the continuing critical need for blood products to ensure patient care. Donors of all blood types are asked to give now to keep blood supply levels rising after a summer shortage. Type O blood donors and those giving platelets are especially needed.

As National Preparedness Month continues, the Red Cross highlights the importance of having a strong supply of blood products already on hand for disasters and emergencies of all kinds and to meet the needs of patients every day.

To schedule a time to give blood or platelets, visit RedCrossBlood.org, call 1-800-RED CROSS or use the Red Cross Blood Donor App. In thanks, those who come to give Sept. 1-15, will receive an exclusive Red Cross raglan t-shirt, while supplies last.

All who come to give Sept. 16-30, will get a $15 e-gift card to a merchant of choice.

THE ENTERTAINMENT EXAMINER
— By Ian Stumbo —

Many (including myself) never thought there would be a sequel to the 1988 horror comedy classic Beetlejuice.

I was proven wrong in 2024 as director Tim Burton returned to one of his most beloved films to make a follow up called Beetlejuice Beetlejuice.

Lydia Deetz (Winona Ryder) is now a mother of young Astrid (Jenna Ortega). After the passing of a close family member, she must return with Astrid and mother Delia (Catherine O'Hara) to their former home for the wake. Of course, waiting the entire time, is the ghost with the most Beetlejuice (Michael Keaton) who is still pining for Lydia while managing the underworld. Lydia must use Beetlejuice's help once again to find answers regarding her daughter and herself.

There is fun to be had for sure in this movie and Keaton is terrific and slips back into the role of Beetlejuice with ease, bringing back the eccentric personality and fun antics.

Ortega is a great addition to the cast as is Willem Dafoe as a detective and Monica Bellucci as Beetlejuice's ex-wife who is on the hunt for him.

As much as fun as this movie is, there are quite a few flaws. The biggest flaw is that it is overstuffed with too many plotlines and characters.

As good as the new characters are, there are so many stories and loose ends that concentrating on other characters would be more advantageous.

Bellucci's introduction into the movie is really well done and then her character goes away for a long time. Some characters, like Dafoe's, are almost get forgotten.

Beetlejuice Beetlejuice has some fun moments with the original cast, especially Keaton who brings this character back in a big way. The movie suffers from about three too many plotlines and characters that make the film too much to completely enjoy and a simpler more straightforward plot would have made for a more enjoyable experience.

Lexington Council approves cruiser purchase

The Village of Lexington Council met Aug. 5 with Mayor Bob Jarvis presiding.

Attending were Keith Bacin, Adam Gongwer, Aaron Hoptry, Wynn Kearns, Kim Little and Jeff O'Brien. Also at the meeting were attorney John Studenmund, administrator Peter Them, Chief Weaver, finance director James Banks and assistant finance director Rachel Fagan.

Brian Moore, treasurer for the Blueberry Festival, asked council why there was a change in time for the parade on Sunday, Aug. 4th. The committee originally requested the parade to start at 2 pm. Mayor Jarvis stated that time coincides exactly with the time the super bikes are letting out at Mid-Ohio Sports Car Course. This would not be an ideal situation with all the traffic attempting to get out of town and the closing of Main Street for over an hour. Moore ultimately agreed to start the parade at 1 pm.

Charles Comstock of Essex Road asked about dead trees located across Bicentennial Park. He noted this is a safety issue. Administrator Them stated he has mailed letters to the property owners of the dead trees. Comstock added that an overgrown tree is located on Essex Circle and needs trimming. It inhibits sight distance for vehicles.

Comstock also expressed his worries for all the businesses disappearing in the village and leaving all the empty buildings in its wake. Comstock asked if there is something the village can do to attract/promote businesses. Mayor Jarvis advised that the tools available are being utilized when they apply including tax abatements and grants. Mayor Jarvis added that small businesses do not employ sufficient workers to qualify for abatements.

Comstock asked if anyone has asked the departing businesses why they are leaving. It was noted that Geyer's is currently renting their building and that Rite Aide was bought out by another corporation and elected to shut down this building.

Olivia Robertson of Main Street requested the council approve Facebook, a social media web age for village and surrounding area residents, so that people are up to date on current events.

Robertson gave a couple of examples where a Facebook page would have been handy including a gas leak in the area and a recent scam with a door-to-door salesman. Robertson noted that Lexington and Butler are the only two villages in Richland County that do not have a Facebook account. A brief discussion followed but no decisions were made.

Peter Them reported that the paving project is completed.

Finance director, Jim Banks reported that all ten bank accounts have been reconciled for the month of July. There were no issues.

An open solicitation complaint was made for a pest control door to door salesman. Them reviewed the permit policy.

Deer crossing signage was placed on Steam Corners Rd. Village trick or treat is scheduled for Thursday, Oct. 31, from 5:30 to 7 pm.

Councilman Bacin thanked Them for reviving the village newsletter. Bacin noted the sign ordinance is not being supported within the village. Them stated that the planning commission is in the process of clarifying our zoning ordinances and hope to have these completed and be more aggressive regarding our ordinances.

Mayor Bob Jarvis reported that only part-time help must watch the eight-minute video to complete the required fraud video training for all village employees. The village received the $250,000 study grant money to apply for a connector road project.

Councilman Little asked if the garden in front of Cucina's store is permissible in the village. Mayor Jarvis stated they are currently reviewing village zoning.

As reported by Chief Troy Weaver, The Flock Camera was able to alert of one stolen vehicle and two felony drug arrests and is proving to be very beneficial.

The new cruiser is in and will get outfitted, which takes approximately eight and a half weeks.

The evidence room update is almost complete.

There is an opportunity to purchase a 2024 cruiser for only $500 to $800 more. It is currently available. If not purchased now, the next availability will possibly be November or December 2024.

Sticker price is $45,935. Outfitted price is from $15,000 to $16,000. Total cost is $60,935-$61,935. This will allow a total of six cruisers for the department. The purchase of new 2024 police cruiser was approved.

Councilman Hoptry asked why the change was made from February 2024 when they were told no more cruisers were needed. Chief Weaver stated, "It was a true statement, but considering the rise in costs and lack of availability in just under a year's time, it would be best to purchase two in 2024 and skip the 2025 cruiser purchase. A Council scheduled meetings for Tuesday, Sept. 3 and Monday, Sept. 16. Council is back to business attire.

A resolution was approved confirming the appointment of Dalton Deel as a full-time probationary police officer of the Village of Lexington and declaring an emergency.

A resolution was approved authorizing the administrative director to advertise for competitive bids for the 200 West Main Street culvert project and declaring an emergency.

A corrugated pipe on the resident's side has failed and created a sinkhole. KEM has been working on the project. Trees are gone and the stumps have been removed.

An ordinance to approve the State Route 42 culvert replacement engineering design plans and associated costs was approved. Kleinfelder agreed to an amendment of the previous contract.

An ordinance passed approving the new national opioids settlement with Kroger Co. and ratifying the execution of the settlement participation form with Kroger Co., and declaring an emergency.

Standing operating procedure, which has been completed previously for other stores, must be used for a police department project. Total cost is approximately $2,500.

An ordinance was passed to approve payment of an invoice based on a then and now certificate, and declaring an emergency.

An oversight was made where emails from OWDA and OPW were received and believed to be from the same organization due to the similarity in abbreviations. A payment was missed for OWDA as a result. Fagan explained and apologized to council. There were no late fees.

An ordinance providing for permanent budget amendments and appropriations for aughts for the administrative, general, income tax and park funds was approved. Most of the amendments are due to inflation costs. G & L Supply was the vendor of choice for bathroom soap and paper and had always donated the dispensers. They have closed their building in Mansfield forcing the village to get supplies delivered from Cleveland. Council will review other options. Other monies were for income tax software.

Mayor Jarvis reported the dedication for the pickleball court was well received.

CARMELIZED BEEF SHORT RIBS

Ingredients

- 8-12 Beef short ribs
(Find the "meatiest" short ribs you can. They come with a lot of fat.)
- 2 gloves garlic, chopped and smashed
- 1¼ cups brown sugar
- 1 tablespoon molasses
- 2 teaspoons coarse kosher salt
- Crushed black pepper
- Olive oil
- ½ stick of butter
- 1-12 ounce package of sliced mushrooms
- 1 cup beef broth or stock
- 1 cup Cabernet or deep red wine (A Merlot works)
- For garnish
- Chopped parsley
- Alfalfa sprouts

Instructions

I use my cast iron skillet in the oven for this recipe. If you don't have a cast iron skillet, use an oven safe roasting dish or skillet. Preheat oven to 350 degrees. In a decent size bowl toss in garlic and with the back of a spoon, smash the garlic down so it almost becomes like a paste. (It smashes down easier if you chop it rather than try to smash it down as a whole clove.) After garlic is mashed, add the brown sugar, molasses, salt, pepper and around five tablespoons of olive oil. Mix all together. We are looking for a damp, almost dry brown sugar mix. We don't want it wet or "muddy". So maybe start with a little less olive oil and go from there. Take beef ribs and hand rub the brown sugar mixture into each rib so they are coated. We don't want a real heavy coating but a decent one. (you should have a little extra mix after all the ribs are coated). Give a good drizzle of olive oil to the bottom of the skillet or pan and place ribs, bone side down. Take the extra brown sugar mix and spread evenly over the ribs in the pan. Place in oven and cook 30-35 minutes with convection roast, 45 non convection. We are looking for red/pink in the middle. DO NOT OVERCOOK them. (When roasting short ribs, you will realize that in spite of having a lot of fat on them they can be unforgiving when over cooked).

Plymouth FFA chapter receives grant for local community

The Plymouth FFA Chapter received a grant to fund a program designed to help the Plymouth and Shiloh local communities.

The Ohio FFA Foundation awarded the grant to the Plymouth FFA Chapter to support building sustainable relationships and programs that will benefit Ohio communities for years to come.

After FFA chapters submitted project proposals to the Ohio FFA Foundation, a total of 19 chapters received grants ranging from $1,000 to $4,000.

As one of the grant recipients, the Plymouth FFA Chapter will work in collaboration with the Plymouth-Shiloh FFA Alumni, local hospitals, fire departments and first responders as members of the Plymouth FFA Chapter will teach students about being prepared for emergency situations. Student drivers will learn basic safety and first aid skills and will also make their own emergency car kits. With the support of donations, we hope to expand upon this grant to give kits to community members as well.

Plymouth FFA President Katelyn Swingle and Vice President Kristen Swingle are spearheading this initiative.

Katelyn said, "Mrs. Ringler approached me with this grant opportunity in May and my sister came up with the idea and we worked together to create a plan and application after approving the idea with our school treasurer."

"We wanted to make sure our student body at Plymouth High School would have the proper safety equipment in their vehicles to promote personal and vehicle safety. The kits will include basic first aid kits, jumper cables, tire repair kits, road flares, disposable gas cans and more."

"Our chapter would appreciate anyone who would like to contribute towards this project in addition to the $4,000 grant we received."

The Ohio FFA Foundation's Chapter Success Grants program is made possible by support from Heritage Cooperative, Ohio Department of Agriculture and Trillium Farms. For more information about the Plymouth FFA Chapter's project contact advisor Laura Ringler at lringler@plymouthk12.org or at the school at 419-687-8200 ext. 22107.

Workshop is September 14

The Crawford County Art Center is hosting a free author talk and workshop on Saturday, Sept. 14 from 2-4 pm at 1810 E. Mansfield St., Bucyrus. The art center gallery is located on the west side of the Showplace Rental building.

The workshop, titled "Memoir as History: Writing and Publishing Your Stories," will focus on encouraging people to journal, write, edit and publish their own books.

Along with getting started on writing and narrative guidance, author Mike Hocker will also be sharing tips and pitfalls of the process. Reservations are not necessary but are appreciated to allow for a headcount. Call the Art Center at 419-834-4133 and leave a message with your name.

Free Speakeasy Jazz Concert is Sunday, Sept. 15

Richland Academy of the Arts will present the "old-time" dance band, Stardust, led by artistic jazz orchestra band leader Paul Martin.

The Stardust dance band consists of two saxophones, three trombones, piano, bass, drums, and a singer, and recreates the sounds of the bands from the swing era. The band performs the music of Glenn Miller, Tommy Dorsey, Ted Heath, Woody Herman, Count Basie, Duke Ellington, Stan Kenton and more.

The music is fantastic for dancing or simply sitting back and relaxing. The band will be accompanied by singer Kelly Knowlton.

This concert is free to Richland County older adults 60 and older on Sept. 15, from 2-4 pm at Richland Academy of the Arts.

The special concert event is supported and funded by the Richland County Senior Services Levy, administered by the Ohio District 5 Area Agency on Aging, Inc.

Call 419-522-8224 to register for the event or for additional information. Space is limited.

Organized by Carol Bernhardt in memory of her late husband,

Donald Bernhardt who was concertmaster of the Mansfield Symphony and the Ashland Orchestra as well as an avid chamber music player, the Mansfield Chamber Music Players have performed over 100 different pieces on these concerts since the first one in 1997.

Included on this year's varied program is Five Easy Dances by Denes Agay and Folk Suite No. 4 by William Grant Still played by a woodwind quintet. The strings will play Quintette #7 op. 50 by Adolphe Blanc and the winds will join the strings for Dixtuor by Theodore Dubois.

Performing will be: violin, Michael Sieberg and Steve Domka; viola, Jim Froelich; cello, Robert Rashid; bass, David Lenigan; flute, Katie Fanning; oboe, Carol Bernhardt; clarinet, Pamela Ellis; french horn, Keely Krumweide; and bassoon, Jane Price.

The concert is provided by the Donald Bernhardt Memorial Chamber Music Fund at Chase Bank in cooperation with The Ohio State University - Mansfield Campus.

RAA welcomes Sophia Marshall

Sophia Marshall, an active musical performer, has sung with ensembles with the Mansfield Symphony Orchestra and the Cleveland Orchestra's Blossom Festival Chorus.

Marshall will join the team at Richland Academy of the Arts as a private piano and voice instructor this fall semester. She states, "I am excited to begin teaching at Richland Academy of the Arts! I am dedicated to fostering the love of music in my students and communities and my goal, through teaching, is to demonstrate excellence in music."

Holding a Bachelor of Music Education from The College of Wooster, she currently teaches elementary choir and general music at Lexington Local Schools, leading rehearsals and classes for grades K-6.

She has held various teaching and conducting roles across Ohio and has served as president of the Ohio Collegiate Music Education Association.

The RAA is launching the Empower The Arts Capital Campaign to make restorations and updates to create new and functional teaching spaces.

The Richland Academy of the Arts was founded in 1991 and is located on the corner of 4th St. and Walnut St., beside the carousel. For more information visit richlandacademy.com or call 419-522-8224.

Neighborhood Action meeting to focus on disability voting rights

The North End Community Improvement Collaborative (NECIC) has announced a special Neighborhood Action Meeting in honor of Disability Voting Rights Week (Sept. 9 to 13).

The meeting will be Wednesday, Sept. 11, at 5 pm at the NECIC Community Outreach Center, 486 Springmill St., Mansfield.

This event will focus on enhancing voting rights and accessibility for individuals with disabilities. The goal is to create an inclusive dialogue that ensures every voice is heard in the upcoming election.

Event Highlights:

- Resources for disabled voters: Discover essential information and support services specifically designed for voters with disabilities.

- Voting machine demonstrations: Gain hands-on experience with voting machines to better understand how they operate and how they can be utilized effectively.

- Preview NECIC's candidates night: Get a sneak peek at the upcoming candidates night, where those attending will have the opportunity to learn about key issues facing voters this November and hear directly from the candidates running for office.

- Voter registration and absentee ballot assistance: Receive guidance on registering to vote and navigating absentee ballot processes.

This event is free and open to all. We invite community members to join us in sharing their experiences, exploring improvements to the voting process, and addressing the impact of the upcoming election. Connect with your neighbors and contribute to a more inclusive voting experience for everyone.

Special thanks go to REV UP and American Association of People with Disabilities, Richland New Hope, Richland County Board of Developmental Disabilities and Richland County Board of Elections.

For more information, contact NECIC Community Organizer Aurelio Diaz at 419-522-1611 or aurelio@necic-ohio.org. Visit www.necic-ohio.org for more details.

September celebrated as National Kinship Care Month

September is National Kinship Care Month and Richland County Children Services (RCCS) is recognizing and celebrating all the kinship caregivers — grandparents, aunts, uncles, brothers and sisters, family friends and mentors — who are stepping up for children.

Kinship Care is providing children a place of love, hope and safety when they're own parents are unable or unwilling to do so. It may be provided by an adult relative or a non-related adult who has a bond with a child or their family (such as a teacher, neighbor, or family friend). Those individuals are called "fictive kin." Richland County Children Services strives to ensure that children are placed with kin whenever possible.

Kinship placements are important to the agency and to children because they allow the children stability and can create a unique sense of belonging by preserving families when parents are not able to do so.

In Ohio, more than 297,000 children under the age of 18 live in homes where the caregivers are relatives other than their parents, and of these, more than 189,000 live with grandparents; and 85,000 children live in the homes of their grandparents who are responsible for their care and 45,000 have cared for their grandchildren for five years or more.

The number of children in a kinship arrangement is steadily on the rise due to the difficulties faced by biological parents from drug abuse to poverty. Kinship placements tend to be more enduring over time due to blood ties than any other placement option.

No matter how the arrangement was made, kin are making a courageous and life-changing commitment to the children in their care.

Richland County Children Services offers Kinship services by assisting families in obtaining benefits and services through our Kinship Navigator team. Kinship Navigators will help the Kinship Caregiver locate and obtain community services for which they are eligible.

These resources may include Medicaid coverage, food stamps, childcare subsidy, "Child Only" TANF or Ohio Works First assistance and utilities assistance. The kinship program may also be able to assist with some legal matters such as Power of Attorney, legal custody, legal guardianship, and Caregivers Authorization Affidavit.

As Kinship Care Month is honored, RCCS will continue to support all the kinship care providers throughout Richland County, these everyday heroes who are committed to providing love and stability to the children they care for.

RCCS encourages all individuals to invest in the lives of children and to provide them with unconditional love, support, guidance, and every available resource to ensure their health and well-being.

For more information about the Kinship Navigator program call 419-774-4100.

Colts girls golf off to a great start

By Kris Leiter

Let's travel down to the southern part of our coverage area for a bit shall we? The Clear Fork girls golf team is in full swing (pun intended).

I had a chance to chat with Jeremy Riddle, who is currently the Lady Colts golf coach. He recently began coaching the boys golf team as well.

Riddle, a 1996 graduate of Clear Fork High School, is no stranger to the Colts vocabulary. Riddle's accolades include coaching a state championship title in boys baseball in 2010!

As for golf, Riddle has been a part the Lady Colts golf team for the past 17 years and has manned the head coaching position for approximately the past eight seasons.

The Colts home course is the beautiful Little Apple Golf Course.

The Lady Colts just wrapped up their Colt Classic Invitational this week, with 12 teams involved. The Colts finished in the middle of the pack with a total score of 390.

Leading the Lady Colts was Baylie Salkovick with a score of 92.

"I'm amazed at our girls," said Riddle. "We have 10 girls who really put in the dedication and practice."

"Ironically, what impresses me the most is the majority of our team is comprised of freshmen and sophomores."

"Another hats off to the girls from our match last week. We just recently played Galion over at Valley View."

"We had some nice scores by Baylie, with a great round 38, as well as Chloe Steward with a 40, Erika Holler and Caroline Dill with scores of 44 as well."

Good luck to the Colts as they continue their season!

Ontario continues to be undefeated, tied with Shelby in conference 3-0

By Kris Leiter

The Ontario Warriors are blazing a trail on the warpath and it doesn't appear that they slowing down anytime soon,

Last Friday, they handed the Madison Rams a defeat of 34-14.

Let's give a big hats off to the Warriors' relentless defense. Thus far, they have been holding their opponents to no more than 21 points each in the last three games.

How about one better? They have only allowed 14 points each to Lexington and Madison — Lexington in the opening week on Aug. 23 by a score of 31-14. And last Friday, defeating the Madsion Rams on the road 34-14.

In week one, long time rival Lexington was in control for most of the first half by holding the lead 14-6. The Warriors would then flip the script in the second half against the Minutemen and would start to tally the digits on the scoreboard. By the time the final horn sounded, the Warriors notched the victory 31-14.

Currently, the Warriors are undefeated in the Mid-Ohio Athletic Conference at an unblemished 3-0, currently tied with Shelby.

"Who let the Dogs out?" as in the those mighty Whippets. If you recall last season, the Warriors hosted the Whippets in Ontario at Copeland Field which was hyped as the game of the year.

It met the hype as Ontario squeezed out the victory with a last second field goal. It gives me goosebumps just writing about it. So, wouldn't it be cool to sneak-peek ahead on the schedule a bit.

Well, wouldn't you know it, those Whippets are on the schedule this year to tangle with the Warriors once again! It may me taboo in sports to look ahead, but Oct.18 might be a date to circle for another showdown from last year!
