North Central Ohio's Alzheimer's Association hosts Walk to End Alzheimer's in Mansfield

Photos and Article By Traci Little

The annual Walk to End Alzheimer's took place on Saturday morning, Sept. 14, at Mansfield's Carrousel Park. It was a mild and sunny day, with Mansfield's streets filled with a beautiful tapestry of purple and teal, colors representing the cause.

For many in North Central Ohio, Alzheimer's is a personal crisis, and the crowd reflected the strength and determination of the community to fight this disease. Whether you've been personally affected or simply believe in the vision of a world without Alzheimer's and other dementias, the Walk was a powerful moment of solidarity. It was a day to show support, compassion, and hope. Participants fearlessly advocated for their loved ones, helping fuel groundbreaking research simply by being present.

A new era of treatment and care is on the horizon, paving the way for a future where Alzheimer's may be a thing of the past. Every dollar raised makes a difference. By walking together, we are creating history and fighting for those living with the disease, ensuring they receive the treatment, care, and support they need and deserve. Through generous giving, we are bringing new treatments home to our friends, families, and neighbors.

The Alzheimer's Association Walk to End Alzheimer's is the world's largest event dedicated to raising awareness and funds for Alzheimer's care, support, and research. As the leading voluntary health organization in Alzheimer's care, support, and research, the Alzheimer's Association leads the charge to end Alzheimer's and other forms of dementia by accelerating global research, promoting risk reduction and early detection, and maximizing quality care and support.

This year, 342 participants across 78 teams took part in the Walk. Mindy Taylor-Tishue, from Kingwood Center Gardens, opened the event with a heartfelt rendition of the national anthem and shared what the Walk means to her. "My grandfather passed away from complications related to Alzheimer's," she said. "This cause is near and dear to my heart, and I'm honored to be part of it as a community participant with Kingwood Center."

Brenda Nelson, the 2024 North Central Ohio Executive Event Chair, also spoke about her personal connection to the disease, expressing her dedication to making the Walk a success.

Library hosts cartoonsit exhibit

The Mansfield/Richland County Public Library will present “Mansfield’s Legendary Scott Brown: An Exhibit at the Main Library” at 43 W. Third St., Mansfield, Sept. 16 to Oct. 4.

Ohio’s legendary Scott Brown (1909–1982), cartoonist and soda shop philosopher, will be honored in this one-of-a-kind exhibit.

Brown was best known locally as the proprietor of Brown’s Soda Shop, which served up “the largest, coldest, and best chocolate soda on Route 30” to generations of locals and those passing through. The rest of the country, however, knew him as a cartoonist. Readers coast-to-coast laughed at his cartoons in The Saturday Evening Post, The New Yorker® and others. This exhibit showcases Brown’s cartoons and artwork set within a narrative of his life.

In addition, the community is invited to a presentation by Christopher Kuntz, MD, Brown’s grandson and author of Scott Brown: Cartoonist, on Thursday, Sept. 19, at 6 pm in the Main Library Community Room. Dr. Kuntz will give a behind-the-scenes peek at the creation of the book while entertaining with cartoons, artwork and stories from Brown’s life.

While vacationing in Europe, a family befriends another couple and their child only to be invited to their home which turns into a weekend of terror in the new release Speak No Evil.

This is a very recent remake of a 2022 Danish film. Having not seen the original it is unfortunate to not be able to compare the two, though this movie has quite a bit of positives on its own.

James McAvoy stars as Paddy. He, his wife and his son befriend an American couple named Louise and Ben played by Mackenzie Dalton and Scott McNairy.

Upon returning home, Mackenzie and Ben and their daughter are invited to Paddy’s home, a rustic, rural location seemingly in the middle of nowhere. As Paddy acts out and things become uncomfortable, Ben and Mackenzie try to find a way out.

There is nothing being revealed here that hasn’t been seen in the numerous trailers released. The movie’s strength is in its performances. McAvoy is a terrific actor and brings charm and terror to his lead role. Everybody involved in the movie down to the child actors are really top notch and elevate this film. The beginning is pretty slow though, and it takes a while for the film to get going.

Its main strength is certainly when one family turns on the other.

There are some great scenes towards the end with lots of suspenseful moments and that whole sequence could have been drawn out a little more as it gets to be very intense and exciting.

A mixed review, though pretty positive, for Speak No Evil. There is nothing particularly unique about this suspense/thriller though the performances, especially from McAvoy, and the movements and reveals of the characters are solid enough to make for a fun time.

Memorial Arrangements

Betty Lou (Wehinger) Brinley

It is with great sadness that the family of Betty Lou (Wehinger) Brinley announces her passing on Sept. 9, 2024, at the age of 90. Betty was born Aug. 23, 1934 to Gerard and Elizabeth Wehinger, one of two children. Betty was preceded in death by her infant son Jeffrey, son Ted, her brother Bob and husband Keith.

As a native of Mansfield, Ohio, Betty and Keith were married November 19, 1953, and together they raised five children: Bob (Marcia) Brinley, Ted Brinley (deceased), Tracey (Shawn) Brenneman, Andi (Jay) Sneeringer and Leslie Altmier.

She will be lovingly remembered by her remaining four children: Bob, Tracey, Andi and Leslie; Eleven grandchildren Erik (Divya) Brinley, Kristin (Marc) Mitchell, Jessica Brinley (Colton Dunnivant), Adam (Gusty) Brinley, Erin (Wes) Kemme, Danny (Kelly) McGatha, Ally (Casey) Payne, Denise Komitau, Jennifer (James) Hall, Julie Altmier, Kevin (Nicole) Altmier; 18 great grandchildren: Chloe and Neil Brinley, Travis, Iris, and Josephine Mitchell, Anya, Axel and Avry Brinley-Smith, Fergus Dunnivant, Anderson Brinley, Liam, Rowan and Keegan Moore, Brinley, Landry and Adley Kemme, Evan and Addison Komitau; many nieces and nephews and her beloved dog, Pippin.

Betty graduated from St. Peter's Catholic High School in 1952. She was a stay-at-home Mom raising five children. She became a local sales representative for J.R. Holcomb selling school supplies in Northern Ohio.

She is best known as one of the first women to sell Apple computers to schools when computers first hit schools. She helped Keith set up a business as a service center for Apple Computers.

She was involved with all her kid's school and extracurricular activities, which meant she was very busy with five children! She was like a second Mom to many of the kids in the neighborhood as there were always more than five kids in the house.

She put her family first but was always helping people in need. She volunteered for Steven Ministries through St. Peter's Parish.

Mom was a constant source of love and encouragement for everyone who encountered her.

She loved playing golf and having family visits as her family grew. The family would like to offer a special thanks to the staff at Mansfield Place who took great care, showed her and her dog Pippin love and support during her time there.

We would also like to thank Southern Care Hospice who helped all of us through this difficult time. In lieu of flowers, donations to Southern Care Hospice at 2291 W. Fourth St., Suite G, Mansfield, OH 44906, would be appreciated.

Betty decided many years ago to donate her body for scientific research to The Ohio State University. A private memorial service with family will be announced at a later date.

Awareness Walk is September 25

The Ohio District 5 Area Agency on Aging, Inc. invites the community of all ages to participate in a walk on Wednesday, Sept. 25, to help bring awareness to the prevention of falls.

The walk will be held in Lexington on the B&O Bike Trail from 7-11 am. Participants are welcome to start at any time during these hours and walk as much or as little as they like. Parking is available at the Lexington Senior Center, 64 E. Main St., Lexington, with the walk starting at Y-Not Cycle & Fitness, 64 E Main St, Lexington.

This event is an opportunity to get steps in, connect with the Area Agency on Aging team and learn about wellness programs and transportation services. The total steps will be submitted to the Ohio Department of Aging as part of a statewide tally. All participants will receive a free walking gift. Bikes and adaptive riding equipment can also be rented from Y-Not Cycle & Fitness at own expense.

This walk is part of National Falls Prevention Awareness Week, aimed at highlighting ways older Ohioans can reduce their risk of falling. Each year, one in three Ohioans over the age of 60 will experience a fall, which can result in serious injury or even death. However, falls are not an inevitable part of aging, and most can be prevented. Regular physical activity, such as walking, is one of the most effective ways to reduce the risk of falling, making it the focus of this annual event.

For information about the walk or free classes on falls prevention call Sue at 567-247-6458. In case of rain, the walk will be canceled.

Alzheimer's Association hosts Walk to End Alzheimer's in Mansfield

Nancy Jo Todd shared heartfelt memories of her dear friend, John Nielson, followed by a moving performance of Chris Mann's song "Remember Me." The poignant lyrics, such as "When I feel I'm forgotten and lost in this world, won't you please remember me," struck a chord with the audience, leaving few dry eyes. Nancy first met John while working in the memory care unit at Brookdale Senior Living in Mount Vernon, where she quickly realized the honor of walking part of the Alzheimer's journey with him and his wife, Janice. John's journal entries reflected his feelings of burden and fear of losing relevance, emotions that deeply touched Nancy as she became his close friend over the years. John was diagnosed with Alzheimer's in 2016, but his life before the diagnosis was rich and full. He was a loving husband, father, grandfather, and a man of deep faith in Jesus Christ. He served as a pastor, professor, published author, church leader, missionary, storyteller, choir member, Sunday school teacher, spiritual mentor, and a compassionate friend to many. During their many conversations over the seven months at the memory care unit, John repeatedly asked Nancy, "Have I done enough in my life? Will it all be forgotten?" She consistently reassured him that his life had mattered to countless people, including her, and that his legacy would live on in the hearts of those who loved him. Nancy promised to remember him for the profound impact he had on her and so many others. John passed away and entered heaven in April 2023.

As participants looked around at the colored flowers — orange for those supporting the Alzheimer's Association, purple for those who've lost a loved one, yellow for caregivers, and blue for those diagnosed — the personal connections to Alzheimer's were evident. The hope is that one day we can add a white flower to the mix, symbolizing survivors of Alzheimer's.

After the Walk, participants placed their flowers in a garden to honor their connection. While there's still no cure for Alzheimer's, new treatments are emerging that may change the course of the disease, helping individuals manage symptoms and improve their quality of life. Every step forward brings us closer to stopping Alzheimer's, and there's still time to make a difference. You can donate today at alz.org/nwohio/walk. So far, $93,939 has been raised toward the North Central Ohio chapter's goal of $107,000. Donations can be made directly from your phone by texting 2endalz to 51555.

In Ohio, more than 236,200 people are living with Alzheimer's, with over 414,000 family members and friends serving as caregivers. Across the U.S., the number of people living with dementia is expected to reach nearly 13 million by 2050 unless new treatments are developed. Alzheimer's is currently the 7th leading cause of death in Ohio.

The Alzheimer's Association expresses deep gratitude to the sponsors who made this event possible, including Edward Jones, the National Presenting Sponsor, and local sponsors such as Altercare Bucyrus, Avita Health, Gentiva Hospice, and Jack Stewart Elder Law.

The Alzheimer's Association is a volunteer-driven organization, and there are many ways to get involved. Whether through participating in future Walks or joining other Association events and programs, everyone can contribute to the fight against Alzheimer's. Visit alz.org/volunteer to learn how you can help.

For those facing Alzheimer's or other forms of dementia, help is always available. The Alzheimer's Association's 24/7 Helpline offers free, confidential support, resources, and crisis assistance in over 200 languages. Call 800-272-3900 to speak with a dementia expert and receive the guidance you need. Remember, you are not alone in this fight.

174TH BELLVILLE STREET FAIR • 2024

Merista Brown crowned Bellville Fair Queen

Photos and Article By Traci Little

The 174th Bellville Street Fair, held from Sept. 11–14, delighted visitors with four days of family-friendly entertainment.

Established in 1850, the Bellville Street Fair is the oldest street fair in Ohio. It's truly unique and special, celebrating community, heritage, and local talent.

Attendees enjoyed a variety of rides, concessions, and live music performances, including acts like Red Ball Jets and Six Miles to Nellie. The fair also honored its traditions, featuring an art show at the Bellville Public Library, various livestock competitions, a pet show, and the much-anticipated Junior Livestock Sale.

On the evening of Sept. 11, Merista Brown was crowned the 51st Bellville Fair Queen, with Lauren Perry and Gwyneth Jones named first and second runners-up, respectively.

Other contestants included Jazmine Spayde, April Berry, and Chloe Steward. Brown, a senior softball player and member of the Future Farmers of America (FFA), attends Knox County Career Center, where she studies metal fabrication and welding.

She shared her excitement about representing her community and creating lasting memories. Former Queen Mikka Knapik, who was unable to attend the event due to school commitments, reflected on her reign, expressing gratitude for the opportunities to represent Bellville, meet new people and participate in community events.

Guest speaker Lara Newman, Mrs. Richland County, spoke about her work advocating for substance abuse awareness. As a Bellville native, she has partnered with local libraries to provide resources for families impacted by addiction. Her involvement in pageantry has allowed her to raise awareness and inspire others to seek support.

The Miss Blueberry crew, special guests at the event, helped distribute flowers and awards. After the crowning, the Clear Fork Marching Band gave a performance, continuing a long-standing tradition of showcasing local talent and fostering community spirit.

Lucas football is going new places, seeing new faces

By Kris Leiter

As the saying goes, “New places and new faces,” which is the case on the gridiron for the Lucas Cubs this year.

After Long-time head coach Scott Spittler retired last year, Spittler handed the reigns off to long-time assistant Jim Sweat. Sweat played for the Cubs back in the 1990s, obviously no stranger to the Lucas community.

Sweat has also been a part of the Cub coaching staff for a number of years. In addition to the coaching staff ranks, we welcome his son, Jim Sweat Jr.

Jim Sweat Jr. played for the Cubs during his tenure at his Alma Mater just a few short years ago, then played on the offensive line at Tiffin University for the Dragons.

Sweat Jr. joined the Cub coaching staff last year. Sweat Jr. will coach the offensive line this year, bringing his wealth of college experience to the Cubs staff.

Two other long-time assistant Cub coaches, Coach Barrett and Coach Fanello, are still among the ranks.

Recently, due to an original opponent schedule change, the Cubs made a bus ride to Smethport, Pennsylvania — a 4.5 hour trip “over the hills and through the woods.”

It seems like Lucas handles adversity well for the most part as they dealt the Smethport Hubbers a hefty defeat of 48-12.

As you may recall, a few years ago another Cub opponent had to cancel and within that same week, they traveled to Lakewood, a staunch Division I school in Cleveland, and Lucas, ringing in at a Division VII school, defeated the “giant” of the Lakewood Rangers in their own backyard.

The Cubs in weeks two and three fell to defeat at the hands of Hillsdale 26-8 and Smithville 30-25.

This past Friday, the Cubs again endured a bus ride to Warrensville Heights, another Cleveland suburb, to topple the Tigers 21-14.

Brady Guegold has been making some heads turn as he tallied a trip to the end zone. He stacked up a mere 125 yards on only 17 carries for the Cubs, not a bad day for the young sophomore!

A veteran for the Cubs, running back Dan Hockensmith also notched two touchdowns for the Cubs. Bobby Grover grabbed an interception for Lucas as well.

The Cubs are now back to an even .500 so keep your eyes out. A bear cub itself may not sound too intimidating, but when the mighty Cubs of Lucas take the field, they are far from timid.

Ontario 4-0 with help from Bodpegn Miller

By Kris Leiter

"Bo knows," as in Bo Jackson from the 1990s. If you were a sports fan in that era, you would probably chuckle watching the commercials.

Jackson could probably play any sport and play it with excellence. He was one of those talented athletes that emerged in our lifetime. Jackson was quite the talented professional athlete from that era. Bo could do it all!

Ontario might be able to ditto those quotes, as they have a phenom of an athlete, Bodpegn Miller, who can handle the duties of quarterback, running back, wide receiver and kicker. He will take all his capabilities to Ohio State next fall.

Ontario is holding an unblemished 4-0 in the record books as we speak.

In week 4, they had a victory against Marion County foe River Valley, 27-14. Miller had 20 carries for 212 yards with a touchdown and had 68 yards with seven passes and a score in the Warriors' 27-14 win. Mason Vantilburg had 20 carries for 126 yards and Landon Foltz had a 40-yard touchdown as well.
